Quad-City crime 'blocker' program

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer
A concentrated effort to expand the "crime blocker" program throughout the Quad-City area has begun. Goal is to reduce burglaries and burglary-related violence.

At a Granite City Rotary prayer breakfast Wednesday at Charlie's Restaurant, civic, religious, labor and industrial leaders heard Granite City Police Chief Ronald Veizer and Officer Glenn Wright explain the anti-crime program.

The program began in November 1975 and currently has 350 "crime blockers" enrolled, with a goal of many hundreds more during the next year.

Granite City Rotary President Steve Bristol and Madison Police Chief Frank Dutko and Venice Police Chief Ralph "Dewey" Brawley attended Wednesday, and the block watch and equipment identification programs also involve cooperation with Pontiac Beach and Madison County law enforcement authorities.

"A crime blocker is a citizen helping the police combat crime," particularly burglaries, Officer Wright said.

"When persons sign up for the program, they attend a two-hour orientation aimed at helping the citizen know what to look for and how to accurately report it."

"A citizen, properly oriented, who reports a crime rarely needs to go to court, as the police get accurate and quick information and in most cases are able to apprehend the criminal or prevent the crime," Wright said.

"Most crimes are witnessed. In cities where the crime blocker program is heavily used, the crime rate has been reduced as much as 30 per cent," the officer said.

He explained that after a citizen has attended a training session, the police send a card

7¢ school rate cut

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer
Fluctuating tax rates in the Granite City School District's bond and interest fund and assurances the district will have paid all of its bonded indebtedness by 1980, have led the Granite City Board of Education to instruct the administration to study the bond program and make recommendations for 1980 and beyond.

Tully A. Heubner, director of business affairs, reported to the board Tuesday night that the district's tax levy for the bond and interest fund will drop nearly 9 cents per $100 assessed valuation for next year's tax collection, but then will increase to 7 cents per $100 in collections in the fall of 1978, 1979 and 1980.

After 1980 collections, the district will be able to pay off all of its bonded indebtedness. With this in mind, the board instructed the administration to examine what the district's needs for facilities will be in 1980 and beyond, to determine if a new bond issue will be required, thus continuing the fund beyond 1980 at its present level.

Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis told the board he feels there are several future needs, including the completion of Granite City High School North, repairs and general maintenance to several other schools, landscaping at most schools and possible expansions of some schools to allow the closing of older facilities.

One of the highest priority required, thus continuing the fund beyond 1980 at its present level.

Sewer hearing Tuesday

A hearing on the validity of the Madison County Area One sanitary sewer installation project will take place at 10 a.m. next Tuesday, Oct. 12, in Courtroom Nine at the County Courthouse in Edwardsville.

A lawsuit by several property owners seeks to block issuance of general obligation bonds to finance the massive program in Pontiac Beach and in many unincorporated areas of Chatham, Nameoki and Venice Townships.

An answer has been filed by Harry E. Hartman, attorney for the County Board of Supervisors. Merits of the case are to be argued by him and Joseph Hill, attorney for those filing the suit.

Construction bids approximating the advance cost of $15,555,529 were opened Sept. 30. Action on the bids will await the court decision and sale of bonds.

Health factors and pollution are among the factors cited by those favoring installation of sewers. Opponents object to the method of financing.

He and other new officers will be installed at the annual meeting Thursday evening, Oct. 14.

Higgins has been at the local Nestle plant for the past seven years and has been associated with the company for 23 years. The Granite City facility, at one time a producer of instant coffee, is regarded as the world's largest instant tea plant.

Expand Maeras Industrial Park

The Madison City Council Tuesday night approved the purchase from the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad of 12.2 acres of land located behind the Madison High School to expand Maeras Industrial Park.

Mayor Mike Sasyk announced that additional land is needed for future expansion of the industrial park and a railroad spur.

Cost of the purchase was $12,210.

The mayor said that two manufacturing firms have shown interest in the site.

"I am very optimistic that negotiations for one new plant will be completed within the next couple of weeks," Sasyk said.

"We have a few minor details to work out, but I foresee no problems and should be able to make a detailed presentation, hopefully by the next council meeting, of a new plant located in the industrial park."

Casper S. Nighobiosian, city attorney, reported that Chief Circuit Judge Harold Clark has denied a temporary restraining order sought by Michael

State will pave 162, E. 23rd

The Illinois Department of Transportation plans to resurface and widen Highway 162 from Nameoki Road to Route 111, and to improve 23rd Street from Nameoki Road to Highway 162, the Granite City Council was informed Tuesday night.

The work will be done at no cost to the city and when completed the improved section of 23rd Street will be turned over to Granite City, according to a letter of understanding proposed by the state and accepted by the city in Tuesday night's session. The 23rd Street section is now owned by the state.

On recommendation of City Engineer Monroe Brewer, the council approved unanimously the letter of understanding proposed by H. W. Monroey, state highway district engineer, under which the city agrees to accept the improved 23rd Street section for future maintenance.

Brewer told the council that "We should go along with this without any question. It's one of the few times we have been offered a roadway after it is improved. Usually we are given the old broken up roads and asked to fix them."

According to the notice to the City Council, the DOT plans to widen Highway 162 as well as resurface it. While the letter did not specify highway measurements, Brewer told the Press-Record after the meeting that he understands the present 20-foot pavement of two lanes will be widened to 24 feet, with four-foot shoulders on each side of the highway.

The resolution approving plans and specifications for the improvement of 23rd Street was approved by the council following brief discussion of the project.

Brewer, on a question by Street Superintendent Lionel Portell concerning effect of the project on the connection of the proposed new Maryville Road extension at 23rd Street and Highway 162, said he had conferred with state highway officials on that matter. He said the proposed improvement will

United drive is at 27%

Pledges of $131,017 were made yesterday at the first report luncheon of the Tri-Cities Area United Way campaign.

The figure represents more than 27 per cent of the $475,000 goal. General Campaign Chairman Bill H. Terrell noted at the meeting, held at the Granite City Army Installation.

Press-Record employees were honored for an 11 per cent increase in their United Way contributions compared to a year ago. Other groups are to be singled out for recognition at later report sessions, Terrell said.

The current goal is a record, and requires added participation and generosity, the chairman said. Reports thus far show that individuals, organizations and businesses are responding to the challenge, he added.

Of the amount reported during the initial phase of the campaign, $102,340 is in the industrial division, including corporate and employee giving, it was announced.

Civic division contributors have pledged $13,331 to the drive, construction firms and workers $4,855 and the business division $3,599.

The multi-telephone division so far has raised $3,500. Other early reports are $1,745 professional, $1,325 commercial division I and $317 commercial division II.

Campaign activity also is in progress in the Madison-Venice division and in the solicitation

EXERCISE DISCRETION

Exercise is great... when combined with common sense. Sudden unaccustomed physical activity can produce harmful results. A program of gradually increased activity is the safest approach.

If you have a special health problem, see your physician for a personalized program, geared to your needs. Then see us for any health aids he may suggest.

Recruit foster parents

Central Baptist Family Services, a private non-profit, non-sectarian agency serving Madison and St. Clair Counties, is initiating a recruitment drive to license and train foster parents for adolescent boys and girls. The agency has announced, Homes for teenagers returning to community living from various types of group care facilities, or for those whose family circumstances prevent them from living at home continue to be a high priority need for the child welfare agencies, an agency spokesman said.

The goal of foster care is to provide a stable, supportive atmosphere for young people struggling to achieve academic, vocational and emotional credentials which will permit them to enter adulthood, the spokesman noted.

Professional counseling is provided by trained agency staff, who work together with the foster parents to accomplish realistic goals for the foster teenager. Clothing, medical and other material needs are provided by the agency.

Central Baptist Family Services which includes the Quad Cities is located in Maryville. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., but after-hours appointments will be arranged to see any person interested in applying to be a foster parent, the agency said. More information and instructions on the licensing requirements according to Illinois state laws, may be obtained by calling (818) 345-6083.

Split vote

said the restaurant location across the street from Frohardt School might present a hazard for young pupils attracted to the restaurant, cited traffic congestion, possible property devaluation on homes along Mercer Drive and noise nuisance as some of the reasons for their objections.

Following the Plan Commission action, developers of the restaurant project, an international chain, asked for a hearing before the council to seek a reversal of the Plan Commission rejection of the rezoning plea, and notified the council they had retained William Brandt, a Granite City attorney, to represent them.

Brandt, in the Sept. 21 Council session, requested a deferment on a discussion of the issue because he had not had time to prepare his case. It was granted. In the Sept. 28 meeting, the council received a letter from Brandt noting that he would be unable to attend that meeting. He asked for another deferment.

Despite an argument among the aldermen over the authority of granting a second deferment, Filcoff ruled that a second deferment was in order. The matter therefore was postponed until Tuesday night's session.

Brandt was given permission to address the council on the rezoning plea, and told the council that the Taco Bell Restaurant plans to build a restaurant in the $100,000 class and that it would employ from 25 to 30 persons.

As for the objection that traffic would be more congested because of the restaurant, Brandt said the developers did not believe traffic volume would be increased.

"Anyway," Brandt said, "you should be happy that you have a traffic problem. It means that we are vital. The time to worry is when you see only one car going down the road."

He said that to protect the homeowners, the construction plans call for a 75-foot buffer zone behind the restaurant which would be landscaped.

"This will not detract or detract from Granite City. It will be a first-class place which the owners project would have an income of $400,000 to $500,000 a year. It would be an improvement to the area and more income to the city."

The council also granted permission to speak to Jack Shankle, a resident of the area representing neighborhood homeowners objecting to the restaurant proposal. He said that the residents are opposing the project on five basic objections.

These, he said, are increased traffic congestion, a lowering of household property values by rezoning the area to commercial classification, the noise and nuisance factor, a hazard to school children and the fact that there already are 17 eating establishments within a short walking district in that area.

"We are not opposed to a Taco Bell Restaurant," he said. "We are only opposed to that particular location. We don't want it in our area. They can locate it somewhere else," he said.

Alderman Clyde Boyd of the Third Ward told Shankle, "We have had this type of thing before. What kind of a project would you people be in favor of out there. I recall the objections that were made to a plan to build a multiple unit in that area. The developer finally became frustrated and called it off."

Shankle said the residents were opposed to a commercial type development that would cause further traffic problems and cause their property to decline in value.

At this point, Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward, chairman of the council's Planning and Zoning Committee, presented what he termed a "minority report" in which he moved that the council concur in the Plan Commission report. If approved, this motion would have denied the rezoning.

The council split in half on a 7 to 7 vote to be a tie. This left the deciding vote up to Mayor Paul Schulz.

Schulz cast a "no" vote, defeating Coleman's motion to approve the Plan Commission report.

Alderman Emerald Dawes of the Seventh Ward then moved to amend the zoning ordinance to permit the rezoning. The council split 8 to 6 on this roll call vote, but Filcoff ruled that the motion lost because the amendment to the zoning law required a two-thirds majority, or 10 votes. Dawes motion was declared lost.

In subsequent discussion, with the person's private membership number. The person, when reporting an incident, gives the number instead of the name, and the police can then respond faster to calls because they know they are getting accurate information, according to Wright. One of the procedures calls for the caller to remain on the line and describe later occurrences and the get away.

If police need more information later, they call the crime blocker by phone instead of coming to the residence, thus protecting the caller's anonymity, Wright stressed.

"No one knows a person is a crime blocker, as the police maintain a confidential list of members."

"Prevention of crime and apprehension of criminals are dependent on quick response by police and accurate information. This program provides both."

"About 98 per cent of all citizens are law-abiding. This overwhelming majority, working together, can put a real damper on the two per cent who don't respect the rights and property of others."

"The police departments in this area need the public's eyes and ears. The program is dependent on large numbers of helpful citizens," Officer Wright said.

He said he is able to present crime blocker orientation to any group of 18 or more. He pointed out that several citizens have invited neighbors to their home for such a program.

Virtually an unlimited number of persons can be utilized, Wright said. Even if there are several "crime blockers" in a particular residential block, more are encouraged to join, he added.

While the focus of the program is to curb home burglaries, he noted that several burglaries in this region have ended in murders.

The program also is helpful in halting or solving armed robberies, the breakfast gathering was told.

George E. Moore Sr. presided. Guests included State Senator Sam Vadalabene and Quad-Cities Representative Everett Steele.

Legislator

Samuel Judy was born in Switzerland and came to America when six years old. He was married in Frederick County, Md., and at Pittsburgh, Penn., "worked for the public," as an early chronicler says, "at the gunsmith business, for many years and received nothing for it."

He started for the frontier regions of the west in the year 1776, with his family, then consisting of three children, and descended the Ohio River to Kentucky.

On his way, at the mouth of the Scioto, he heard Indians on the bank making noises to decoy him to the land, but he kept straight on his way down the river.

His daughter, Nancy, then a girl of 18, steered the boat while the others rowed, with all possible speed, past the dangerous locality.

He remained two years in Kentucky, near Louisville, and then set out for Illinois, making a short stop down the Ohio in a flatboat.

The hostile Indians obliged him to seek protection up Cash River, in the present county of Alexander, where he remained seven weeks until a boat could be sent down the Ohio to his relief.

He lived at Kaskaskia four years; in 1792, he moved to the New Design settlement in the present county of Monroe. In 1794 he settled in Monroe County, where he died in the year 1807.

The place where he lived was widely known as Judy's mill. Samuel Judy, his only son, the pioneer of the family in Madison County, was born on Aug. 19, 1773.

He married Margaret Whiteside, a sister of Gen. Samuel Whiteside.

In the early Indian troubles in Monroe County, Judy, then a young man of only 20, displayed "great activity and bravery" in efforts in campaigns against the Indians.

During the war of 1812-14, he was actively in the service. In 1812 he was in command of a company in advance of the main army which proceeded against the Indians at the head of Peoria lake.

The next year, 1813, he was captain of a company in the army of Gen. Howard. In the frontier skirmishes with the Indians, he was considered as efficient, prudent and cautious.

"He was modest and unassuming in character, and would have preferred to serve as a private soldier in the ranks, had not his neighbors and friends insisted on his taking the responsible command to which they thought his experience and sterling qualities of mind entitled him," the historian notes.

He was elected a member from Madison County, in the fall of 1812, of the first legislature that convened at Kaskaskia after the formation of the territorial government.

Although he had little education and had learned barely more than to read and write, and this with some difficulty, the "clear, sound and solid judgment with which nature had endowed him, his great common sense, and his character for honesty and integrity, made him a valuable member of this first legislative body of Illinois."

"His influence was scarcely surpassed by that of any other member."

"After the organization of Madison County, he was one of the first county commissioners, and displayed great judgment, honesty and economy in managing the finances of the county. In his own private business affairs, he exhibited the same prudence and foresight."

"He acquired wealth, but without speculation or doubtful practice. He raised large numbers of horses, cattle, hogs and sheep."

"On the establishment of the penitentiary at Alton, he was appointed by Gov. John Reynolds as one of the board which had charge of the erection of the building and the placing of the penitentiary system in operation."

"Though he was not a member of any religious society, all the churches had the benefit of his good will and friendship, and he was moral and correct in his habits."

"In the excesses so common in his day—gaming, drinking and light and frivolous amusements—he never indulged. He died in the year 1838."

Comptroller Lindberg, Dr. Bakalis ballot rivals on Nov. 2

George W. Lindberg, who was unopposed in the spring Republican primary, is on the Nov. 2 ballot seeking a second four-year term as Illinois state comptroller.

He accuses his opponent of an inept performance while serving in another statewide office. Lindberg also says his ballot foe lacks understanding of the requirements of the comptroller office.

Lindberg has served as a fiscal "watchdog" and has warned repeatedly against what he regards as disastrous revenue policies.

As an example, he spoke out in December 1975, reporting that income tax refunds totaling $3.5 million to 13,000 Illinois citizens and 1,132 corporations were being delayed by Governor Walker's agencies as part of a widespread attempt to hide the fact that the state lacked the money to pay its bills promptly.

Vouchers authorizing tax refunds were being held in the Department of Finance, he said.

"In addition to these income tax refund delays, there were payments to medical providers totaling at least $20 million being held up by the Department of Public Aid."

"Also, 24,000 senior citizens and disabled persons were not receiving $2.6 million owed them under the state's circuit breaker tax refund program."

"If the governor submitted bills for payment, and the money was there in the treasury, we would be able to pay them within two working days," Lindberg said.

Lindberg, of Crystal Lake, gained prominence as author of the state's financial disclosure law for public officials, it was noted during his successful 1972 campaign.

The 44-year-old McHenry County native was first elected to the Illinois House of Representatives in 1966, after serving for 13 years as legal counsel and vice-president for the internationally known investigative firm of John E. Reid & Associates in Chicago.

His interest in politics developed during his employment with the Reid firm when he was called on to testify before numerous legislative bodies as an expert on financial fraud.

While with Reid, Lindberg conducted more than 5,000 investigations of fraud and lectured on the subject at leading universities in the U.S., Australia and South Africa.

The son of a physician and surgeon, the late Dr. A. V. Lindberg, he attended Crystal Lake elementary and secondary schools.

He earned his bachelor of science degree from Northwestern University in 1964 and his law degree from that university's School of Law in 1968.

During his first term in the General Assembly, he sponsored legislation creating the Illinois Public Demonstration Act and legislation creating the Department of Corrections.

The bill to establish the agency brought about a long-sought separation of law enforcement from the penal system because of the fundamental differences of the two functions.

It also provided for state supervision of the 160 jails in Illinois and for a full-time Parole and Pardon Board.

In 1966, Lindberg was named to chair a special House committee to investigate the Illinois judiciary in the wake of disclosures of alleged judicial impropriety by two Illinois Supreme Court justices. During the investigation, the two justices in question resigned.

Lindberg took the committee's recommendations before the Constitutional Convention.

As a result, the 1970 Constitution reflects some of these recommendations, including the provision mandating the legislature to provide economic disclosure legislation for all three branches of government.

Lindberg was the House sponsor of the 1969 law which exempts household furnishings and one automobile from the personal property tax.

That year, he sponsored more than 20 pieces of legislation proposed by the Illinois State's Attorneys' Association to bring about reforms in Illinois criminal law.

Among these were bills to expedite criminal proceedings, without denying due process, by permitting a state's attorney to proceed by information rather than indictment in specified criminal cases.

Following his chairmanship of the judiciary investigating committee, Lindberg introduced and led the fight for the Illinois Governmental Ethics Act which went into effect July 1, 1972.

He received the "outstanding legislator award from the Illinois Small Businessmen's Association and the Jaycees' distinguished service award."

Vice-president and legal counsel for the Special Agents Association, he also held memberships in the National District Attorneys Association, National Municipal League, Illinois State Bar Association, Illinois Chiefs of Police Association, American Polygraph Association and the McHenry and Chicago Bar Associations.

Winner of the Democratic primary election in March for the office of state comptroller, Dr. Michael J. Bakalis, 48, seeks that office in November. He attributes present state fiscal problems to "poor management and administration."

The nominee accuses the incumbent of injecting politics into conduct of the office, and of serving too frequently as a pessimistic "prophet of doom."

Bakalis was elected in 1970 as Illinois superintendent of public instruction, serving a four-year term.

The position was ended by the State Constitution approved by voters in 1970, and the current State Board of Education appointed a superintendent of education. The latter post is held by Dr. Joseph Cronin, who was chosen after Dr. Bakalis withdrew his application.

Before becoming state superintendent, Dr. Bakalis was assistant dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and a professor in the Department of History at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb.

He attended elementary and secondary schools in Chicago and received his bachelor of science degree in education, master of arts and doctorate from Northwestern University.

He had teaching experience at the elementary through university level for 11 years.

As a junior high school teacher, Bakalis was director of curriculum conferences and created new team-teaching techniques at Evanston Township High School.

He served on North Central Association accreditation teams to evaluate and set standards for schools.

In 1966 and 1968, he was awarded federal grants to direct two National Defense Education Act institutes, special programs to retain secondary school teachers.

Dr. Bakalis organized the first "clinical professor" programs in teacher education for the Department of History and a tutor program for disadvantaged students.

In addition to membership in the Illinois Education Association, American Association of University Professors, American Historical Association and Phi Delta Kappa, he has been active in a number of other professional, civic and fraternal organizations.

DR. MICHAEL BAKALIS

He has called for a "massive managerial overhaul" of state government to "bring the bureaucratic structure in line with modern management principles and save the taxpayers millions of dollars."

Dr. Bakalis said the same approach used in streamlining and modernizing the administration of the state education office under his administration should be applied to all of state government.

He said that he was the only constitutional officer or code department head "at that time or since" who was able to reduce his office administrative budget each year he was in office.

"I left the state office with a smaller administrative budget than when I entered, and this was accomplished even though new responsibilities were placed on that agency by the General Assembly and during a time of rapid inflation."

"Planning, budgeting and control systems were instituted, and managers were put through extensive training sessions."

"Professional personnel policies were instituted to heighten agency, departmental and individual worker accountability. These same things need to be done throughout state government."

Health fair for region

A new kind of "block party" will be held in downtown St. Louis on Wednesday, Oct. 13. The streets will be blocked off between Collinsville and Missouri Avenues for an all-day Health Social Service Street Fair. Quad-Cities will be among those attending.

The East St. Louis Center of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and State Community College, along with the Urban League, East Side Health District and Metro-East Health Services, Inc., are sponsors of the all-day event.

Activities will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. Purpose of the fair is to make the region more aware of what kinds of health services are available to them in the area and to make them more health-care conscious, according to Frances Willis. She is coordinator of community organization and public affairs at the SUE East St. Louis Center.

Health care agencies will operate booths along the street, displaying brochures and providing information on their organizations. Visitors to the fair will be able to learn what services are available to them in their area, where they are located, and what they will cost.

"People will learn where to go when they need services," Miss Willis said. Most of the agency services are free, she added.

The festival will also include live music by the Future Sunshine Band.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting Miss Willis at the East St. Louis Center of SUE by calling 217-3000, Ext. 34, or by calling Bill Pagano at the East Side Health District, 874-4713.

cents—a decrease of 7.78 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

However, under a provision to spend the 1989 bond proceeds by boosting the tax levy in the final three years, the rate for the bond and interest will be about 10.50 cents per $100 assessed valuation in the 1977 levy, which will be collected in 1978.

The bond issue, which is subject to change if the assessed valuation of the district changes, means that the rate for the bond and interest will be about 7.39 cents higher than the taxes collected in 1977.

The collection of about $2.22 cents for the bond and interest fund will continue for three years with the final payment in 1980. By then, all of the current bond interest will be paid off and the district will need no bond and interest fund, unless another bond issue is authorized before the current issue expires.

Hayes-Tilden campaign a key Illinois topic in 1876

During October 1876, the final month before the Nov. 7 election, a prime subject of interest to the people and newspapers of Illinois was national politics. Republican candidates were Rutherford B. Hayes for President and William A. Wheeler for Vice President (the eventual winners) and the Democratic ticket consisted of Samuel J. Tilden and Thomas A. Hendricks.

Although none of the principal candidates campaigned in Illinois in October, they had many active and vocal supporters.

Each party formed political clubs that held torchlight parades and rallies where the principal orators often talked an hour and a half or longer. Many newspapers were rabidly partisan and published full accounts of their own party's activities.

A number printed the party's complete slate of candidates every day, and some added the party platform. They repeated each other's most telling comments and frequently added endorsements of their own. If they mentioned the opposition at all, they used the most derogatory wordage possible.

Col. Robert G. Ingersoll, the "Great Agnostic," was the busiest and most popular Republican speaker.

Among the cities where he delivered addresses were Chicago, Aurora, Rock Island, Peoria and Urbana. The Chicago Evening Journal reported that Joliet Republicans had chartered a special train to bring them to hear him.

The political clubs which held rallies and torchlight parades were named for the candidates, and the Democrats frequently called theirs the Tilden, Hendricks and Reform Club.

The size of the parades was judged by the number of torches rather than the number of people, and the Rock Island Daily Argus said of a parade there on Oct. 29, "Many estimated the torches as high as 2,000 to 2,500. Republicans who counted admit 1,300 to 1,500. It was a big thing, anyway."

A variation of a torchlight parade was reported by the Cairo Bulletin of Oct. 22. The city's Democratic clubs, with their 450 torches, paraded and then boarded the river steamer Three States for a trip up the Ohio River to Mound City, where they were met by a welcoming committee and a 40-foot bonfire.

"After promenading the streets for one hour, the procession broke ranks and entered Stokes' Hall," where the orators took place.

John Carter of the host committed led the mile-long parade and was heard to remark "this is the darndest, biggest thing Mound City ever saw."

The Cairo visitors returned home on the Three States late that night. Although politics dominated the scene, it was not the only subject that interested Illinoisans in October a hundred years ago. The season for fairs was drawing to a close, but the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition was still attracting visitors from Illinois.

The Springfield Illinois State Journal reported the Jerseyville fair as "probably the most successful county fair in the state." But at Galesburg, the Peoria Daily Transcript noted, the "fair came to an inglorious end. The superintendent embezzled all the funds—between $5,000 and $8,000—and left for parts unknown."

The papers also show that several institutions or phenomena generally considered modern were in use 100 years ago. One was indoor roller skating rinks.

The State Journal reported the opening of a rink in Armory Hall and said that "the fashionable amusement" was being enjoyed in Peoria, Bloomington and Galesburg. The Peoria Daily Transcript said Rouse's Opera House had been converted into a roller rink and that "a dance to music on roller skates" would be a feature of a "ball and festival" at Centennial Hall.

A second phenomenon of a century ago was unnecessary.

Madison man, 42, arrested at plant

In response to a call that a man with a gun was at the 16th Street Gate of Granite City Steel at 1:20 a.m. Tuesday, Granite City officers arrested a Madison man and charged him on three counts.

Thomas A. Bauer, 42, of 1723 Elizabeth St., Madison, was charged with unlawful use of a weapon (concealed on person); driving in violation of a restriction; and unlawful transportation of alcoholic beverages.

Police said three plant security guards were around a truck with a man inside when they arrived. The man was ordered from the vehicle and a .22 caliber revolver, containing six rounds of ammunition, reportedly was removed from a pocket. Bauer allegedly phoned two men inside the plant and made threats against them, the report stated.

Gridiron Warriors in contest at Edwardsville Friday night

Coach Stan Wojcik's Warrior riders visit the Tiger lair at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Among those going to Edwardsville will be Junior Cliff Moran, 5-7, 140 pounds, who last weekend made his first start since being injured in GCHS South's season opener to make a lasting impression on the Warrior's 21-20 win over Cahokia.

Moran had recorded 25 yards rushing against St. Louis DeMet when he suffered a hairline fracture just below the kneecap. He stayed on the sidelines during two contests before coming off the bench against the Cahokia Comanches to rush for 229 yards and score three touchdowns. The Warriors defeated Cahokia 21-20.

Lossing 35-0 to DeMet, South had been edged 9-6 by O'Fallon and 14-8 by Belleville East before moving out Cahokia. The Warriors in four outings have gained a total of 691 yards on the ground, 332 of them against Cahokia, and 196 yards on 13 aerial completions by Senior Quarterback Keith Champion.

Complementing Moran in the backfield is Mike Clark, who scored touchdowns against both East and O'Fallon and rushed for 135 yards in the two contests.

Tim Anderson is South's leading pass receiver, with reception totaling 46 yards.

Tiger Senior Jeff Hornberger last year rushed for 807 yards and 11 TDs.

This season, Hornberger has 492 yards on runs, six touchdowns, an extra-point kick and a 32-yard field goal.

He scored three TDs in Edwardsville's 37-7 opening win over St. Louis Cleveland, and tallied one TD and 86 yards rushing in a 28-6 setback by Danville. Hornberger rushed for 48 yards in his team's 33-0 loss to Belleville West.

Last week, in Edwardsville's 28-14 win over Alton, Hornberger gained 214 yards rushing and scored two TDs, a field goal and an extra point.

Fifth-year mentor Dick Ford has had teams with a 26-18 record including last year's 5-1 Southwestern Conference mark and 8-2 overall, and this year's 2-2.

Ford has retained the Tiger wishbone offense, with second-year Quarterback Ray Stephens at the helm.

Stephens has 281 yards gained thus far on passing and the Tigers have racked up 778 yards on running plays.

NEAR-MISS as a shot on goal by Cougar Chris Cacciatore (7) at the left bounds away from the Clemson goal here Saturday afternoon. The visitors' age and experience made the difference as the soccer Tigers won 4-2 in double overtime over SIUE. The loss stopped the host Cougars' five-game winning streak; the 7th-ranked school now has a 5-1 record. Third-ranked Clemson is 5-0. A crowd of 2,151 saw Fullback Greg Makowski and Midfielder Mark Moran score for SIUE. Two foul kicks decided the game in the second overtime.

Trojans host high-scoring Marquette eleven Saturday

Madison High School's Trojans seek their first football win of the season when they play Alton Marquette's Explorers at Trojan Field at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Although Coach Nick Jakich's teams is winless in four outings, Madison refused to be shut out until last week's 21-0 blanking by Columbia. MIS opened the season at St. Genevieve, Mo., with a 21-14 game and then lost 30-14 to Warrenton, Mo., and 40-6 to Eldorado.

Sophomore James Heard, 5-9 and 175 pounds, has earned three of Madison's five touchdowns, one on the ground and two on passes from Quarterback Joe Piechocinski. Heard has accumulated 190 yards rushing and 185 yards on pass receptions.

The Trojans have amassed 419 yards against opponents on the ground and Piechocinski, a 6-3, 175-pound junior, has completed 24 aerials for a total of 409 yards.

Coach John Rogers' Explorers enter the contest with a 2-2 record which includes a 26-24 season-opening win over Jerseyville and then losses to Wentzville, Mo., by 26-8 and Duchesne, Mo., by 28-22 before a 25-22 victory over McLeanboro.

Head coach since 1972, Rogers has had teams with an aggregate 34-6-2 record, two of the losses coming in state playoff action in the past two seasons.

Running out of Marquette's wishbone offense is Senior David Swift, the only returning starting letterman. He has averaged more than 100 yards per game and has four rushing touchdowns in three games.

Against Jerseyville, the Explorers tallied 20 points in the final quarter, chalked up three TDs within a 10-minute span.

Overall, Marquette has 840 yards on the ground and 165 yards in the air this fall.

Coach Bob Guelker and his Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team, collectively disappointed with the 4-2 weekend loss in overtime to Clemson University, are not about to let the setback mar their still promising season.

This weekend, starting Friday at DeKalb, the Cougars will play in the fifth annual Governor's Cup Illinois Universities Tournament at Northern Illinois University. Teams entered in the DeKalb meet are Eastern and Western Illinois universities, Northern and SIUE.

Meeting Friday at 6 p.m. will be the Eastern Illinois Panthers and the Western Illinois Leathernecks. In the second contest, at 8 p.m., will be the host Northern Illinois Huskies and the SIUE Cougars.

Despite being favorites in each of the four previous tournaments, the Cougars have won it just once, in 1973.

Coach Dave Bucher's Northern Illinois team is off to its best start, having won four straight this season. Western is 1-3-1, while Eastern is 4-2-0.

SIUE, following its loss to No. 3 ranked Clemson, is now 5-1.

The Clemson-SIUE game Saturday came close to being an international incident when tempers flared and three players—two from Clemson and one from SIUE—were ejected.

Shots on goal favored SIUE. The only by 42 to 37. Corner kicks were even at 7-7, and saves by goalie were 15 each.

The Rams are winless thus far, having lost 33-14 to O'Fallon, 7-6 to Herrin, 21-12 to West Frankfort and 7-0 in overtime to Harrisburg.

"We have dominated the statistics in each contest," says the head coach, "but when the pressure is on we just can't seem to come up with crucial points."

Others who have definitely said they will be back for the annual alumni classic include Bill Lee, Mike Allaria, Roger Belbe of Granite City, John Conrad, Jim Dohr, Jim Greenwald of Granite City, Larry Moore, Don Rains of Granite City, Ted Sangster, Dennis Schutzenhofer, Tim Summers and John Urban.

Coach Lee will have four veteran hurlers ready to go—right-handers Jerry Demel and Sam Pastrovich and southpaws Steve Ashby and Stan Osterbur. In relief will be Vic Spagnola, Steve Ehlers and Kent Hendrickson.

Catching duties for the varsity will be divided between Randy Manley and Greg McBride. At first base it'll be Florz's Kent Wells. At second base will be Don Broadway, Steelers gained their momentum.

Heading North's offensive is Senior Fred Clay, who has run for a total of 335 yards and six touchdowns.

Steelers' Bruce Jateff was the main ballhandler against Cahokia. Clay gained 28 yards in that game.

Jateff suffered a season-ending fracture against Collinsville, and Clay rushed for 108 yards, including an 81-yard TD run.

Clay picked up 237 yards and four TDs in the Wood River game, and last weekend scored a TD and gained 162 yards on carries.

Tenth year Coach Les Feaguy, whose Mount Vernon club is playing North for the first time ever, believes his defensive unit may be able to contain Clay. "But what good would that do if our offense can't put points on the board?" he mused.

Leading the offense are first-year Quarterback Tim Rainey, a junior, and Fullback Terry Schukert, a senior. Schukert has averaged about 100 yards rushing per game and has scored two of his team's five TDs.

"Our scouts have been impressed with Clay's performance," says Feaguy. "We'll concentrate on boxing him in."

The series started on Friday, Sept. 24, at Champaign, where Indiana's Lee Osborne grabbed the point lead by winning a 40-lap feature race.

Following the rainout here, the next action took place at Capital Speedway in Hattis Summit, Mo., with Chuck Amati of Freeman Spur, Ill., wrestling the point lead from Osborne with victories in a heat race, a trophy dash and a 40-lap main event.

Points are calculated on the amount of money won by a race driver.

At the conclusion of the series with a 30-lap feature race this Sunday at the Missouri race track, the driver heading the point standings will receive a bonus of $500.

Trailblazing Amati in the standings are Osborne and Doug Wolfgang.

Sprint car rivalry Saturday

The third round of the first annual "Midwest sprint spectacular" will be held Saturday on the half-mile dirt oval of Tri-City Speedway, 5100 Nameoki Road, with preliminary time trials at 7 p.m. and the first racing event scheduled to start an hour later.

Originally scheduled to be held here Sept. 25, the program had to be reset after rain deluged the Quad-City area on the original date.

North takes unbeaten record to Mt. Vernon on Saturday

Coach Tom Wytorek's GCHS North squad team an independent squad enjoying tremendous success against conference schools this season—remains undefeated in four outings and will take on a fifth conference ball club Saturday at 3 p.m. at Mount Vernon.

The Mount Vernon Rams are members of the South Seven Conference.

A sophomore contest between North and Mount Vernon at 1 p.m. will precede the varsity competition.

North High opened the 1976 campaign with two straight wins over Southwestern Conference schools, 14-8 over Cahokia and 9-0 over Collinsville.

The Steelers then defeated two Mississippi Valley Conference elevens, Wood River 49-14 and Roxana 7-0.

North's offense and defense have clicked. The Steelers have gained 1,011 yards rushing and have passed for 278 yards while limiting the opposition to 390 yards on the ground and 346 in the air.

The Rams have outscored their foes, 79-20, although only one of the contests could be called a runaway. And in that game, the Oilers were marching gallward while trailing only 21-14 at one point before the Steelers gained their momentum.

Heading North's offensive is Senior Fred Clay, who has run for a total of 335 yards and six touchdowns.

Steelers' Bruce Jateff was the main ballhandler against Cahokia. Clay gained 28 yards in that game.

Baseball Cougars to play alumni

Memories will be evoked Sunday at Cougar Field when the SIUE baseball team plays its annual alumni game, starting at 1:30 p.m. The diamond is located at Post and Bluff Roads on the campus.

Coach Roy E. Lee, who has directed varsity baseball at SIUE since its beginning in 1968, will field a strong team against the graduates.

But back for the alumni is a star-studded aggregation headed by John "Champ" Summers, a Madison product who has been a member of the Chicago Cubs for the past two seasons.

filling in for soccer star Tim Twellman. Holding down the hot corner at third base will be Steve Novak, while shortstop chores will be handled by Dave Schake.

In the outfield, Don Lang and Mike Brown are ready to go in left and right, respectively. Favorite to win the centerfield spot is Bob Wilber, but he'll have competition from Bill Stolt and Don Eberline.

The Cougar baseball team finished second in NCAA Division II championship finals at Springfield in June.

Bob Hughes will manage the alumni.

Man charged in gun incident

Leonard Johnson, 25, of 2214 Missouri Ave., was released on $100 bond this morning after being arrested in connection with a gun incident and charged with reckless conduct.

He allegedly fired two shotgun blasts from a pickup truck in the direction of his wife, Donna Johnson, one blast striking the front of Sim's Place, 301 Niedringhaus Ave., at 10:10 p.m. Wednesday.

The two women ran into Sim's Place and alleged the truck passed again and a second shot was fired at the front of the building.

Police located a truck matching the description in the 1700 block of Edison Avenue with about six spent shotgun shell casings and a box of live ammunition inside.

Patrolman Terry May wins Medal of Honor

Granite City Police Patrolman Terry May was one of five police officers awarded the Medal of Honor by the Women's Crusade Against Crime during a dinner meeting yesterday in St. Louis.

Five Medals were given to police officers from the St. Louis Metropolitan area and five others were given to civilians who aided police in solving crimes.

May was honored for bravery in single-handedly stopping the auto of a murder suspect leaving a parking lot at Nameoki Road and Madison Avenue early the morning of Sept. 25, after hearing shots fired from the lot.

A fatally wounded man was found in a car on the parking lot and a 38 caliber revolver was found in the area.

In recommending May for the award, Lt. Col. George Teller noted, "It is my feeling that Patrolman Terry May performed in a most professional manner, risking his life and making every effort to save that of the mortally wounded victim by directing other units to his assistance."

"I felt that his performance was in excess of normal demands of police service," Teller concluded.

Teller, Chief of Police Ronald J. Veizer, Capt. Everett Kelly, Aldermen Gerald Parnley and Everett Morlen and May's parents and family were among those attending the presentation ceremony.

The medal was a surprise to May, who knew only that he had been nominated to receive it. Col. Edward M. Davis, chief of the Los Angeles, Calif., Police Department, was the guest speaker for the event, held in the downtown Breckenridge Pavilion Inn. Davis is president-elect of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

The St. Louis Police Department Band played during the ceremony.

May, 32, who has been a Granite City officer six years, has three letters of commendation in his file, including the murder suspect arrest.

Others dealt with the arrests of three suspects in a Jan. 11, 1971, burglary at Dog-N-Suds Restaurant, and another with helping to clear about 15 to 20 burglaries after stopping youths in a car in the 2200 block of Nevada Street Aug. 11, 1975.

May and his wife, Hazel, have two children.

News notes

The U.S. said yesterday that 19 million workers earning over $13,300 yearly will pay higher Social Security taxes next year. The wage base on which they are levied will rise Jan. 1 to $16,500 from $15,300, with affected individuals paying $965.25, a rise of $70.20. Permitted outside earnings will increase from $2,760 to $3,000.

Many believe Democrat Jimmy Carter "won" last night's debate, offsetting the "victory" by President Gerald Ford, Republican, in the first debate. Vice-presidential contenders Mondale and Dole will debate Oct. 15 in Houston, and the final Carter-Ford debate is set for Oct. 22 in Williamsburg, Va.

$9,000 damage caused by fire

Fire believed to have been caused by an overheated furnace caused damage estimated at $9,000 at 6:45 a.m. today at the Granite City Janitorial Supply Co., 2540 Washington Ave.

Firemen said damage was estimated at $4,000 to the building and $5,000 to the contents. The building was gutted.

Firemen were at the scene for more than an hour.

1.3-inch rain hits area

The heaviest rainfall in any one day of the past 13 months fell in the Quad-City area Tuesday in a steady, and sometimes heavy, downpour that measured 1.30 inches over a period of about 16 hours.

Tuesday's rain which began shortly after 6 a.m. and continued throughout the day was the heaviest precipitation recorded in this area on any single day since Aug. 26, 1975, when a 1.55-inch fall was recorded.

The rain was hailed as a break in a drought that has plagued the Quad-City area as well as much of the nation this summer, but farmers and gardeners said the rain came too late.

Only 12.86 inches of rain fell in the Quad-Cities during the nine months of this year through September, compared to a normal of 27.05 inches for the period. In September, only 62 of an inch of rain was recorded. The 1.30-inch rainfall Tuesday, exceeded the total monthly precipitation in January, February, June and September, and was just slightly less than the total monthly fall in April (1.41 inches), July (1.49 inches) and August (1.64 inches).

While one power outage was reported, it was not related to the rains. There were no high winds or storm damage. About 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, two power wires on poles near Clark Avenue and Maryville Road blew together and short circuited, causing a circuit breaker to close down the Parkway area substation.

About 300 homes were without power for periods ranging from 40 minutes to one hour and 10 minutes before repair work was completed at 8:40 p.m. Tuesday.

A spokesman for Illinois Power Co. said it is believed a utility pole or guy wire shifted over a long amount of time, allowing slack in the power wires which then were blown together.

National Beauty Salon Week is being celebrated through Sunday by more than 64,000 members of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

In recognition of the week-long observance, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler has issued a proclamation, which reads in part:

"Whereas, National Beauty Salon Week will be observed in our community, as well as throughout the nation, during the week of Oct. 3, 1976, by the 64,000 members of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, and

"Whereas, the members of this national professional association of cosmetologists, established in 1921, to further the highest standards of professional beauty care, have through their training and creative talents enhanced and

"Therefore, I, Paul Schuler, mayor of the City of Granite City, do hereby proclaim the week of Oct. 3, 1976 as National Beauty Salon Week and commend it and its theme, 'Your Hairdresser Does It Better' to the attention of our citizens in order to recognize the cosmetologists for their dedicated services to the grooming of women for greater beauty."

Providing background music for Sunday's show will be Greg Rogers at the organ.

Refreshments will be served, and many prizes will be available to those attending, according to Mrs. Brenda Cant, Affiliate 33 president.

MR. AND MRS. F. DARRON DAILEY. They were united in marriage at the Religious Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Formerly Miss Deena L. Poulos, the bride is a daughter of Alderman and Mrs. Roy Poulos, 2213 Benton St.

Deena L. Poulos bride of F. Darron Dailey

Miss Deena L. Poulos, a daughter of Alderman and Mrs. Roy Poulos, 2213 Benton St., and F. Darron Dailey, a son of Mrs. Marie Dailey, 401 Wyatt, Greenville, Ill., exchanged wedding vows on Sept. 25 at the Religious Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville campus.

Pastor Gene Thiemann officiated at the double ring ceremony at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Bouquets of white mums intermingled with gold and yellow pom poms decorated the sanctuary.

Jeanine and Steve Nonn played and sang, "I Will," "In My Life," "Wedding Song," "Time in a Bottle" and "We've Only Just Begun."

For her wedding the bride chose a full length ivory organza Empire silhouette gown fashioned with a sheer yoke defined with Venice lace motifs and edged with English net embellished with tiny flowers. Matching lace trim accented the long tapered sleeves which terminated with a flare cuff, and lace also encircled the waistline. The decorative lace trim was applied on the long skirt and full sweep chapel train.

A camelot headpiece of Venice lace etched with pearls secured her veil of bridal illusion also trimmed with tiny lace motifs. She held a cascade of gardenias, white roses and baby's breath.

Honor attendants Mrs. Karen Kopis and bridesmaids, Miss Mary Schildman and Mrs. Sandra David were identical long jersey dresses complemented with multi color print organza cape. The matron of honor selected persimmon and the bridesmaids chose spice colors for their attire.

They held colonial bouquets of daisies and pom poms in yellow and brown hues.

Melissa Tapp, the bride's cousin, served as flower girl. She was dressed in a long egg-shell colored frock made with short sleeves trimmed in green and brown lace. She carried a wicker basket filled with fall blossoms.

Jason Varner, a nephew of the groom, was the ringbearer.

Mike Rousseau attended the groom as best man. Stanley Potts and Jan Potts served as groomsmen and ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Poulos, selected a long mini green polyester knit dress designed with a mock collar, long sleeves and a full skirt. She wore a gardenia corsage.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at the VFW Hall. A rehearsal dinner was hosted at Charlie's Restaurant.

The couple is now residing at Greenville, Ill., following a wedding trip to Tan-Tar-A Resort.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. The former Miss Poulos received a B.S. degree in 1972 from Southern Illinois University and is teaching English at North High School. She is a former member of the American Association of University Women.

The groom is attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville where he is completing work on a degree in social sciences.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ben McEwen of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Filbert Dailey, Mrs. Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bartels of Bethalto, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Medina of Murphysboro, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds of Dana Point, Calif. and Mrs. Trudi Murrell of Belleville.

Restoration Society to hear Mrs. Engelke

Mrs. Georgia Engelke, author of the book "The Old Six Mile" will be guest of honor at a monthly meeting of the Downtown Neighborhood Restoration Society (DNRS) to be held Friday at 8 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walt Padgett, 2217 Delmar Ave.

Plans for the session were finalized at a board of directors meeting last week at the Padgett residence.

Mrs. Judy Padgett, president of the DNRS, reports Mrs. Engelke will autograph books during the evening. Included in the book is a notation by the author in relation to the DNRS in which she states, "This group should be commended for the hard work in renovating the downtown residential area."

Guests during the session were Mr. and Mrs. Larry (Sharon) Calvo who were presented with associate memberships in the DNRS by Walt Padgett, membership chairman.

The Calvo family purchased a home at 2426 State St. about one year ago and have been refinishing the 50-year-old house both with exterior and interior projects.

Mrs. Calvo reports some of the work completed includes painting, refinishing stairway bannister, antiqued window frames and doorways and keeping the original stained glass panels in the entrance. She used the enclosed front porch for various types of plants and they are in the process of remodeling the enclosed back porch for a breakfast room.

Furniture pieces include a refinished 60-year-old cedar chest, which belonged to Mrs. Calvo's grandfather and now serves as an accent table in the living room.

"The Calvos are indicative of the young people in our community who realize the practicality of living in the downtown area and the awareness of pride in their home not merely pride in owning a new home" according to one of the club officers.

Topics to be discussed at Friday night's meeting are the forthcoming home tour set for spring, a program for Christmas carolers who will tour the area during the holidays and information on the Illinois Historical Society tour and meeting at St. Genevieve, Mo. Oct. 15, 16 and 17.

First national wilderness area in state is designated

Congress has passed a major land preservation act which includes a provision to designate 4,050 acres of the Crab Orchard National Wildlife Refuge as Illinois' first national wilderness area.

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.), who testified before the Senate Subcommittee on Environment and Land Resources on this provision last spring, said this week that the Congressional action will help to preserve "one of Illinois' most treasured natural environments."

He added, "Its beauty is enhanced by the location of the land, which includes the roughest terrain and most inaccessible and isolated area of the Crab Orchard Refuge."

The wilderness area includes all the land between Devils Lake and the southern bound-dary of the refuge.

Although this area was at one time homesteaded, farmed and logged, it has been uninhabited for the last 25 years and has been nearly completely restored to a natural state.

"The atmosphere there is both serene and wild, attracting a vast array of wildlife which can roam freely across the land without being disturbed by man-made obstacles," Percy said.

Because the land is federally owned, no new land acquisitions were necessary.

"At a time when there is so much emphasis on industrial growth and development, I am pleased that Congress has voted to set aside this land where people for years to come can reflect upon and appreciate Illinois' natural wonders," the senator concluded.

Future medical technicians to meet tomorrow

To help alleviate a need for medical technicians in this region and in other parts of Downstate Illinois, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will hold a career information conference for prospective biology majors.

The conference, sponsored by area hospitals and the SIUE department of biological sciences, will be tomorrow from 1:30 p.m. until 4:30 p.m. in the Illinois Room of the University Center. It is open to anyone interested in the biological sciences.

Preparation for the career takes four years. Three years are spent in academic preparation and one year in clinical training at a hospital. Students graduate with a bachelor of science in biology.

Hospital representatives will be on hand to discuss career opportunities in medical technology. A film, "in a Medical Laboratory," will be shown, illustrating how pathologists, medical technologists and other laboratory personnel work together in clinical medicine.

Douglas Eder, assistant professor of biological sciences at SIUE, said, "By 1978, federal guidelines require that clinical laboratories be staffed by medical technologists. This greatly opens up the employment door for our graduates." He can be called at 692-2508 or 692-3927.

KELLY DUTKO, 20, daughter of Police Chief and Mrs. Frank Dutko, 1808 Fifth St., Madison, has been chosen as a candidate for Homecoming Queen at Eastern Illinois University, (EIU) Charleston, Ill., by Sigma, Sigma, Sigma Sorority. She is a junior majoring in business and is vice-president of the sorority. The EIU Homecoming is scheduled Oct. 29 through 31.

Assumption program on engineering

Students attending three high schools in East St. Louis will have a better chance of becoming scientists or engineers because of a grant received by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The university has been awarded $184,228 by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for continued support of its science awareness program.

Emil Jaron, assistant vice-president for special programs and minority affairs at SIUE, said the national demonstration project, fully funded for its second year, is designed to motivate students from disadvantaged areas to study science and engineering. It provides them with the pre-college training necessary to succeed when they reach the university. Miriam Dusenbery, coordinator of the program and professor of education at SIUE, said, East St. Louis High School, Lincoln High School and Assumption High School are the schools being utilized in the program. The East St. Louis school district provides office and classroom space, while SIUE provides faculty and staff. In the future, the program will be expanded to include other area high schools, Professor Dusenbery said.

The science awareness program includes vocational counseling, tutorial services and courses at the college level. To acquaint students with the world of science, students receive information on possible careers through classroom presentations and field trips.

Trips are arranged to visit area industrial, institutional and business environments so that students receive first-hand knowledge about careers in the sciences and engineering. Individual counseling sessions are also available.

For students who need assistance in English, mathematics, science and reading, tutorial services are provided either on a small-group or individual basis.

The college courses offered at the high schools are courses that would ordinarily have to be taken by any student entering a science curriculum, Dusenbery said.

The program is reaching over 200 students at the present time. Professor Dusenbery said, emphasizing individual instruction, motivation to enter science careers, and raising the level of competence in the academic areas related to these careers.

Intruder enters Johnson School

A custodian at Johnson School, 4225 Old Alton Road, reported Monday that an intruder entered the building and attempted to open file cabinets in the main office, damaging the locks, and also tampered with a soda machine in the teachers' lounge trying to remove the change box.

Entry was gained by prying an aluminum window frame in the office. It was not known at the time of the report if other items had been taken.

Revival service at Briarcliff

Pastor Wayne Miller announced today that the Briarcliff Pentecostal Church will conduct revival services next week with Evangelist David Cook from Nampa, Idaho, as the principal speaker.

The services will be held at 7:30 p.m. each day, Oct. 10 through Oct. 16 at the church, 1200 West Ponton Road.

Rev. Cook began his ministry while he was in his teens. Upon graduation from International Bible College in San Antonio, Tex. he entered into full-time evangelism which has taken him to the Philippines, Japan, Korea, Thailand, India, Israel and Mexico.

The services will include worship and singing. The public is invited to participate, the Rev. Miller said.

NOW program reset Oct. 13

Mrs. Norma Mendoza of Granite City, president of the Metro East Chapter of the National Organization for Women (NOW), today announced the postponement of its public meeting with area state representatives until Wednesday, Oct. 13, at the First Federal Savings and Loan building, 300 St. Louis Ave., Edwardsville.

Purpose of the meeting is to inform the public about the activities of the Illinois House Committee on Education and Higher Education, with the focus on compliance with Title IX and other state and federal equal opportunity laws, Mrs. Mendoza said.

Those attending will have an opportunity to inform state representatives of District 56, who are members of these committees, of specific areas of concern, the officer said.

Rep. Joe E. Lucio (D-Edwardsville) and Rep. Everett G. Stults (R-Glen Carbon) have been invited to attend as speakers, together with other candidates.

Prior to the meeting, the speakers will be provided a list of questions of specific interest to their constituents in District 56, Mrs. Mendoza advised.

Home fire escape routes suggested

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension Adviser,
Home Economics

Although fire drills are required by schools, hospitals and many places of employment, they are neglected in the American home.

Most home fires begin between midnight and 6 a.m., when you are usually asleep and least prepared.

A home fire escape plan can reduce the chance of injury or death to your family in case of a nighttime fire.

Home fires start in places likely to block your usual hall or stairway exit route. Thirty-five percent of the home fires begin in the living room, 22 percent in the kitchen, 14 percent in the basement and 13 percent in the bedroom.

Your normal escape path can quickly become a death trap as stairways and halls rapidly fill with heat, poisonous fumes and smoke. High temperatures can race far ahead of actual flames.

Gather the entire family together and determine the best escape routes for each room in the house. After you have made your escape plan, evaluate it.

Are there two ways of escape from each room? Can you get out of all windows quickly? Can everyone in the family open the storm windows?

Is there a door, especially in each bedroom, to close in case of a fire? Can you reach the ground as safely as possible if you have to climb down from a secondary window?

A nighttime fire is a frightening experience. There is little chance to think clearly and one wrong move could mean a family disaster.

Besides planning and practicing your fire escape plan, consider these suggestions.

—If you smell smoke, arouse the rest of the family with an emergency signal which has been agreed on. Fire may block hallways, preventing you from reaching other bedrooms on foot.

—Close doors against smoke and heat.

—If your door is closed, test by feeling before you open it. If the door is hot, use your emergency exit.

—If your room is filled with smoke, keep down close to the floor where you can breathe more easily.

—Never reenter a burning building.

—Assemble at the predetermined meeting place outside and then notify firemen.

Gruver-Hoxsey family gathering

A gathering of the Gruver and Hoxsey families took place during the weekend at Wilson Park.

Among those attending were Harvel Gruver of Milmar, Calif.; Dick Gruver of Sunnyside, Calif.; Richard Musgrave of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Joe (Wanda) Gruver; Plennos and children, Roger, Rodney, Rhonda and Roxana, Washington, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Ruth) Gruver; Betty and grandchildren, Sherman, Jeffery and Malissa, Greenville, Ill.; Pete Hoxsey and daughters, Susan and Ellen, Catonsville, Mo.; Earl Hoxsey of Crestwood, Mo.; Dale and Tillie Musong of Florissant, Mo.; and Mrs. Mary (Hoxsey) Gilrath and daughters, Nancy and Karen, Edwardsville.

From Granite City were Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hoxsey and son, Charlie, Mr. and Mrs. Bert (Grace Hoxsey) Robinson and daughter, Maryvonne, Mr. and Mrs. Tom (Dottie Hoxsey) Baldwin, Mrs. Ruby (Hoxsey) Arnette, Mr. and Mrs. Robert (Opal Gruver) Blivins and Mrs. Dorothy (Gruver) Ridden.

John 10:16 "And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold... and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd."

You are fortunate if you belong to a Christian organization or fellowship of believers. There is great joy and satisfaction in being involved. We draw strength from each other as we share our burdens as well as our blessings.

However, you are unfortunate if you think your group is the only group that provides a way into the presence of God. His own words are, "There shall be one fold and one shepherd." Whatever your organization is called on earth the name will never be mentioned in Heaven.

From north, south, east, west, from all lands, from every corner of earth, the believers shall be gathered unto Him. What are they called? Christians! Because they are like Christ. Wouldn't you like to be one? You can be. Whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

Will you call on Him? Today.

Catherine Lee becomes Mrs. Gerardo Ortega G.

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Catherine Gail Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lee, 3212 Willow Ave., and Dr. Gerardo Ortega G. of Rochester, N. Y., at 10:30 a.m. on Sept. 25 at the Old Cathedral in St. Louis.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Ortega R. of Monterrey, Nueve Leon, Mexico. After a wedding trip to Mexico City and Monterrey, Mexico the newly married couple will reside in Rochester, N. Y.

Altar bouquets of fall flowers provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed by Father Valentine Young O.F.M.

During the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Pablo Trevino of Monterrey, Mexico, an aunt and uncle of the groom, presented the priest with thirteen 18th century gold coins, who in turn gave them to the newly married couple. For generations these coins have been passed down to the oldest son upon marriage.

As part of the ceremony the newlyweds were united with a hand-poured silver rosary, a gift from the parents of the groom, which was placed upon their shoulders by the sisters of the groom, Josefina and Carmen Ortega.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride, chose a full length gown of ivory silk organza designed with an Empire waistline and bodice enhanced with ivory Venise lace motifs.

The lace appliques formed the high neckline, edged the short capelet style sleeves and bordered the A-line skirt. Her cathedral length veil of ivory illusion was secured to a fitted Juliet cap of lace and she carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids and yellow Sweetheart roses intermingled with sprigs of ivy.

Miss Judy Lee, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Gail Veizer served as bridesmaid. They wore long brown jersey halter style gowns complemented with matching shawls. Each held a bouquet of bronze and yellow mums and yellow Sweetheart roses and ivy.

The flower girl, Lisa Zielinski, a cousin of the bride, was dressed in an antique ivory cotton floor length frock. The Victorian neckline, leg-o-mutton sleeves and the hemline were trimmed with matching lace and brown piping. She carried a wicker basket filled with bronze and yellow mums.

Dr. Angel Narvaez attended the groom as best man. Brian and Keith Lee, brothers of the bride, served as groomsmen and usher.

Miss Bonnie McGuire presided over the guest book at a reception held at the Cheshire Inn, St. Louis. A rehearsal dinner was held at Tony's Restaurant in Alton.

After a wedding trip to Mexico City and Monterrey, Mexico the newly married couple will reside in Rochester, N. Y.

The groom graduated from the University of Monterrey, N.L. Mexico and is presently serving his second year surgical residency with the University of Rochester Hospital, Rochester, N. Y.

MR. AND MRS. GREGORY STANFILL whose wedding took place at St. Joseph Roman Catholic Church. Formerly Miss Mary Ann Thornton, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin P. Thornton, 2224 Iowa St.

Mary Ann Thornton and Gregory Stanfill wed

The wedding of Miss Mary Ann Thornton, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin P. Thornton, 2224 Iowa St., and Gregory L. Stanfill, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stanfill, 2214 State St., was solemnized on Sept. 17 at St. Joseph Roman Catholic Church.

Burning tapers in tall candelabra and bouquets of white flowers and greenery provided the setting for the 7 p.m. double ring ceremony performed by Father Peter Donohoe.

Organist Gary Allison accompanied Melanie Asadorian as she sang a selection of wedding music.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Thornton chose a full length A-line style organza over taffeta gown.

Venise lace motifs accented the Empire bodice, cardinal designed sleeves and was repeated on the front of the full skirt.

Her mantilla veil was secured by a round headpiece trimmed with Venise lace and she held a cascade of white carnations, pink roses, baby's breath and lemon leaf.

Matron of honor Mrs. Julie Ahning and bridesmaids, Mrs. Justine Thornton, a sister-in-law of the bride, Misses Cathy and Marianne Stanfill, sisters of the groom, selected identical pastel color floor length gowns of polyester crepe.

Each attendant wore a long sleeved voile jacket fashioned in a companion floral print. The honor attendant held a French colonial bouquet of apricot carnations, white pom poms and baby's breath and the bridesmaids bouquets were arrangements of lilac carnations intermingled with blue and yellow pom poms.

The groom chose his brother, Thomas Stanfill, as best man. Michael and David Thornton, brothers of the bride and Paul Strackeljohn, a cousin of the groom, served as groomsmen. Richard and Wesley Stanfill, brothers of the groom, were ushers.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at the Officers Club of the Granite City Army Installation, after the service. Mr. and Mrs. Stanfill, parents of the groom, hosted a rehearsal dinner at Charlie's Restaurant. For her daughter's wedding.

Mrs. Thornton, selected a long salmon color polyester gown and jacket ensemble trimmed with Venise lace.

The groom's mother appeared in a floor length lime green polyester knit gown featuring a lace bodice and long full sleeves. Both wore corsages of white carnations, roses and baby's breath.

Both young people graduated in 1972 from South High School. The bride is employed at the First National Bank, Madison and the groom will graduate from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in December. He is also employed as manager of Mid-America Cinema Theater in Granite City.

They are residing in Granite City.

MRS. GARY FERRERO, who was married at St. John United Church of Christ, Collinsville. The former Miss Emma Earhart, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Earhart, 2825 Edwards St.

Miss Emma Earhart wed candlelight ceremony

Miss Emma Earhart, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Earhart, 2825 Edwards St., became the bride of Gary Ferrero, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Ferrero of Collinsville, on Oct. 2 at St. John United Church of Christ, Collinsville.

Bouquets of white flowers adorned the altar illuminated with burning tapers in branched candelabra, for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Donald Sabbert and the Rev. William Roddy, at 7:30 p.m.

Deborah Milton sang, "Sunrise, Sunset," "You'll Never Walk Alone," "We've Only Just Begun" and The Lord's Prayer, accompanied at the organ by William Hart.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the former Miss Earhart, wore a full length white sate gown fashioned in an Empire silhouette.

Cluny lace formed a wedding ring collar and edged a bib effect on the molded bodice. Matching lace encircled the high rise waistline and enhanced the full sleeves and full skirt which extended into a cathedral length train.

Her floor length veil was attached to a lace and pearl headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white roses and Salal leaves.

Honor attendants Mrs. Beverly Klein, a cousin of the bride and bridesmaids, Miss Debi Earhart, a sister of the bride, Marilyn Thiel and Diane Meier, the groom's sister, selected identical dresses.

Their gowns were created in a green print voile featuring a Cluny lace trim around the square necklines, marking the waistlines and accenting the long full sleeves.

A wide gathered flounce bordered the hemlines and each attendant wore a matching picture hat. They held nosegays of blue tinted pom poms and gold pom poms, intermingled with purple statice and baby's breath.

Julie Simon served as a miniature bride and wore a frock similar to the bridal gown. She carried a nosegay of white blossoms.

Todd Hickman, a cousin of the bride, was the ringbearer.

The groom chose his cousin, Terry Feig, as best man. Groomsmen and ushers included Dennis Ferrero, a cousin of the groom, Nick Thiel, Gary Meier, a brother-in-law of the groom, Doug Hickman and Raymond Ferrero, cousins of the bride couple.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Earhart, selected a formal length aqua A-line style gown featuring long sleeves and worn with silver accessories.

The groom's mother, was attired in a long Bermuda color Empire gown and jacket ensemble, complemented with silver accessories. Both mothers wore white orchids.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church fellowship hall. Becky Hubble attended the guest book.

The newly wed couple left for a wedding trip to Gatlinburg, Tenn. after the reception.

A 1972 graduate of Granite City High School South, the bride is employed as a key punch operator at Hickey-Mitchell Insurance Co.

The groom received a B.S. degree from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1970 and is working as a clerk at Missouri Pacific Railroad.

Out of town guests here for the wedding included Mrs. Lois Earhart of Dover, Tenn., a grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. John Hickman of Morris City, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray of Waverly, Tenn. and Mr. and Mrs. Lacey Boyer and daughter Tiffany of Ashley, Ill.

School board decides to seek vocational grant

If the Economic Development Commission does not approve a $500,000 grant for the Granite City public schools to construct a vocational building at Granite City High School North, the district will lose about $27,000 in architects fees, the Board of Education was told Tuesday night.

Tully A. Heubner, director of business affairs for the school district, was asked Sept. 21 to investigate the cost of preparing a design and grant application for the vocational building, should the district decide to have a large permanent building designed in hopes of having it funded through an EDC grant.

Heubner consulted with Henry Gabriel, Granite City architect, since Gabriel already had completed site and design work with plans to construct a pre-fabricated metal building on the site for an automotive shop.

Gabriel noted there would be no fee for preparing the grant application and he would give the district a deduction of his regular fee should he be authorized to begin design specifications for the building.

He said the fee for a building up to $500,000 would be 0.25 per cent of the estimated building cost, or $41,250. He offered to deduct one per cent for site work and research already done for a total of $36,250 owed if he prepares all of the designs and the building is constructed.

If the grant is not approved, the building is not constructed, he would charge only 75 per cent of the whole fee, since about 75 per cent of the work would already have been done in preparing the plans. Should the grant be denied, the district would have to pay about $27,187 for the work.

B. J. Davis, superintendent of schools, emphasized the money would not be wasted, should the grant be denied. "We will still have the plans for a vocational building which we could use at any time to construct the building," he told the board.

Heubner told the board approval of the grant application would necessitate approval to begin the building design, since the EDC requires construction work to actually begin within 30 days of the announcement of grant approval.

Since it would be impossible to prepare the design and award contracts within that 30 days, it is necessary to prepare plans, working drawings and specifications now while the grant application is pending.

Heubner also reported he attended an EDC meeting Sept. 24 in Belleville at which indications were received only the top priority projects from each district were likely to be seriously considered for funding.

The board had discussed submitting several applications for grants, including a gymnasium and auditorium at GCHS North and remodeling at GCHS South, but that idea was dismissed after brief discussion Tuesday night.

The board voted to apply for a $500,000 grant to pay for the building, equipment, architect's work, administration and contingency fees involved in the proposed vocational center.

If the grant is not approved, the board will have the option of finding other funding for the permanent building or of going ahead with the original plans for a metal building to house an automotive shop at North.

Job placement aids high school students

Part-time jobs may be obtained for high school students who have saleable skills or are willing to learn from employer training sessions.

Roy McConkey, career and vocational placement counselor in the Granite City School District, said this week.

Some jobs require previous experience or work skills, but there are still positions for those 16 years old and over who have a neat appearance, practice good manners and will make a real effort to work hard.

McConkey said. Every employer wants to hire the best person available and they should be able to do this, he stressed. The unemployment rate is high and personnel managers are very particular in selecting new workers.

Since the 1967-68 school year began, McConkey has held lunch-study meetings at both Granite City high schools to fill out job information forms for students who want help in finding part-time employment.

Further meetings are planned in the near future during lunch-study periods to help interested students gain employment information, the counselor said. These meetings will focus on information concerning a job application, the interview, how to follow up an interview and employer needs and expectations.

McConkey expressed the hope the Part-Time Career and Vocational Placement Service will become a part of each interested student's education.

He stressed that a part-time job is not intended to interfere with school class work or activities. The work should provide career information, develop better study-work habits and create a more organized person.

referred through the high school placement program knows the location, hours, skills required, pay and employer expectations before going for the interview. "The part-time work a student does while still in school should make him a better educated person and contribute to his career and vocational plans," the counselor stated.

Three counts of robbery

Robert Miller Jr., 34, Kirkpatrick Homes, has been named in an informational document from the Madison County state's attorney's office charging him with three counts of armed robbery.

The document alleges he stole the auto of Herbert Battles, Cahokia, July 28, after displaying a gun. It also alleges he robbed Battles of cash.

The third count alleges he robbed Mrs. Sue Williams, owner of Blume's woman's clothing store in Edwardsville July 30. About $70 cash was taken in that robbery.

Miller was arrested after an alleged police chase in Granite City Aug. 2 which ended in Miller's car and a police car being involved in an accident.

The state's attorney's office also has issued an informational document alleging forgery by Shellia Paulette Kirk, 4709 Kirkpatrick Homes. The document alleges that the woman attempted to forge a public aid check issued to Judy A. Means, July 17.

Her bond was set at $5,000 and she was released on bond.

Miller's bond has been set at $25,000 on an armed robbery count and $20,000 on each of the other counts.

School bus safety stressed

It's 7:30 a.m. on a Monday. The roads are dry; the visibility is good.

A big yellow school bus lumbers to a stop, red warning lights flashing and stop arms extended, as two young children prepare to climb aboard for the five-mile ride to their elementary school.

This seemingly safe scene could be the location of a school bus accident, according to State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin, who noted that accident statistics show school bus mishaps often occur under similar circumstances.

In a statement to kick off School Bus Safety Week in Illinois, Oct. 3-9, Cronin cited an Illinois Department of Transportation study which found that school bus accidents last year occurred mostly:

—During daylight hours (peak hours were 7 a.m. and 2 p.m.).

—On clear days when visibility was good.

—On dry road surfaces.

—With passenger cars having no apparent mechanical defects.

—With local automobile drivers described as in normal condition.

These apparently ideal driving conditions indicate that many school bus accidents are avoidable," Cronin said.

"During School Bus Safety Week, we are urging all drivers to pay greater attention to their driving habits and to particularly note their actions when they approach school buses and school children."

"Notwithstanding, about half of all school children ride buses to school," Cronin said, "and it is the safest way for children to get to and from school. But some accidents still occur, and school bus safety is a continuing concern of the State Board of Education."

To help reduce accidents even further, the state and school districts are emphasizing training for safety.

Cronin noted that extensive training programs for the state's 23,000 school bus drivers will begin this month. The programs, required before a driver can renew his or her certificate next year, include instruction in laws and regulations, passenger control, safety in loading passengers, emergency actions, first-aid and identifying potential hazards.

In addition, school children are taught how to conduct themselves safely on the school bus.

The buses are inspected regularly for safety by the state transportation department, Cronin added.

He pointed out that a school bus today can "mean more than just the massive 60-passenger vehicle motorists are accustomed to seeing on the streets and highways. A school bus can be anything from a converted van or mini-bus to a full-sized vehicle."

"Whatever its size, the yellow vehicle carrying children to and from school is legally considered a school bus, and drivers approaching from any direction are expected to stop when the bus is stopped with red lights flashing and stop arm out."

"The safety of our school buses and the nearly 900,000 Illinois school children who ride buses each day to and from school is the responsibility of each Illinois motorist."

"I join Gov. Daniel Walker in urging drivers and other citizens to be alert for school buses and to exercise caution when a bus is near. While we will do everything possible to educate school children and personnel in safety, we ask all drivers to do their part."

Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett said his office will continue its accelerated application and mailing program to avoid the usual heavy processing backlog late in the year.

"This significant speed-up in sending out 1977 plates can be mainly attributed to the improvement in registration and validation procedures which our office developed this year," Howlett said.

"In addition, employees from all departments in the Springfield secretary of state's office are assisting in the application processing whenever possible."

The period for reassignment and special license number requests ended Sept. 30.

Faster mailing of car licenses

It is over seven weeks before 1977 license plates may be displayed, but over 400,000 new passenger plates already have been mailed to Illinois motor vehicle owners, more than double the number of plates that had been sent at this point last year.

Partee finds fault with hiring by Scott

Senate President Cecil A. Partee, Democratic candidate for Illinois attorney general, this week charged that the incumbent has "a poor track record" on hiring top level personnel in the attorney general's office during the last eight years.

Partee said Scott has exercised "poor judgment and a lack of concern for the public good" in his hiring practices.

"Thomas Price, a former top assistant, tried cases on William Scott's behalf in court until it was pointed out to Scott that Price was not qualified to practice law," Partee alleged.

"Peter Zelkoff resigned as administrative assistant following disclosures that a free garage had been provided by a series of contracts for state work. Illinois taxpayers will be amazed to know that Zelkoff later was quietly slipped back on the payroll by Scott at a salary exceeding $28,000 a year."

"Ed Scholl was hired by Scott as an assistant to a deputy attorney general only months before Scholl was charged in a tax case."

"Richard Kleindienst, who was top assistant to President Nixon's attorney general, John Mitchell, prior to being elevated to attorney general himself, later resigned and pleaded to a charge in court that he gave misleading testimony to a Senate committee."

"Scott quietly hired Kleindienst to represent Illinois in two Equity scandal suits. Scott ended up being forced by public pressure to fire Kleindienst."

Partee went on, "Mr. Scott also has a notorious habit of loading up his payroll with out-of-work Republican politicians. A Downstate daily paper in 1975 captioned the headline on a wire story describing this Scott practice in the following way: 'Scott's staff full of losers.'"

"For example, immediately after the November 1974 election, Scott placed six defeated Republicans on his payroll."

"Perhaps this is a key reason why Scott's office budget has soared by more than 80 per cent since he took office eight years ago," said Partee. "Not even inflation can be used as an excuse for that astronomical increase in spending taxpayers' money."

Interior design class to start

The SIUE Office of Conferences and Institutes will offer a workshop in interior design this fall.

Sessions for the five-week course will meet Wednesdays from 7 until 9 p.m. in Room 2409 of the Peck Classroom Building, beginning Oct. 20. Christopher Thau will be the instructor. Registration is $10.

The format of the class will include lecture periods, slide presentations, and use of color charts and fabric samples. Students will receive instruction in home decoration through the use of color, lighting, textiles and choice of furniture style. The history of furniture style will be explored, along with the idea that "rooms can and must change with the seasons and with the age of their owners."

Lincoln Coin Club show to be Sunday

The Land of Lincoln Coin Club will hold its monthly coin show and flea market Sunday at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Pontoon Road and Franklin Avenue from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. There is no admission charge. # Festival seen as a cultural-educational plus but not a financial success in '76

The board of directors of the Mississippi River Festival received a 1976 season report Monday indicating a number of cultural and educational improvements over previous seasons but a $137,094 financial deficit in addition to a $41,523 deficit incurred by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in operating the festival. The executive committee of the MRF board was charged with the responsibility of proposing recommendations within the next 40 days concerning the retirement of the deficit and the future of the music festival.

Lyle Ward, managing director of the River Festival, said he believes there are a number of funding sources and programming changes which can resolve the deficit and also project successful seasons in the future.

Dr. Andrew J. Kochman, acting president of SIUE and vice-president of MRF, Inc., urged continuation of the festival.

He suggested "a hard look be taken" at the administrative costs. The acting president praised the staff for "special efforts to make this season as successful as possible in the face of trying circumstances."

"Adversity tests our commitment," he remarked. Ward pointed to a drop in attendance of nearly 54,000 from last year as the main reason for this season's deficit.

He blamed the cancellation of five major concerts, including the "Yes" concert, which had a projected attendance of approximately 25,000. Ward also pointed to adverse weather conditions, competition from rock concert promoters in the St. Louis area, incidents which were publicized out proportion," and admission policy changes.

Following an incident at the River Festival on July 7, the management employed more security, cracked down on drinking by juveniles and prohibited cans and glass containers.

"These policy changes had an adverse effect on attendance, but virtually eliminated the problems we had encountered," Ward said. Last year's festival, with an attendance of over 222,000, showed a net profit of approximately $2,000. At the beginning of the season this year, with several more events scheduled, attendance was projected at 260,000 and profits at approximately $20,000.

Ward reported to the board that the River Festival's investment in fine arts was nearly doubled this year, and the educational programs were considered a major success.

He emphasized that the festival also provides quality summer recreational activities for area families and young adults, as well as an economic stimulus to communities of this region through employment opportunities and facility operation expenditures.

Ward said the educational programs make professional artists available for both formal and informal classroom experiences on the university campus.

The fine arts programs, particularly in the areas of dance, residences and specialized music instruction through cooperation with regional institutions, enhance the cultural growth of the metropolitan area.

The managing director said he will propose to the executive committee that the festival can fulfill its cultural, educational and social mission by placing greater emphasis on program excellence, the continued enhancement of educational opportunities, and the further identification and development of appropriate funding sources.

"Festival planning, budgeting and evaluation will be conducted to insure excellence in program content, responsibility in fiscal commitments, and continuance to involve the participation of regional academicians, students and community leaders," Ward said.

In other action Monday, the MRF board voted to name Greg Drexilius of Edwardsville to the student position on the board of directors vacated by a resignation from Lorenzo Buford. The board also named student members Pete Nasir and Craig Leitner to the executive committee.

Urge veterans to check availability of benefits

Former servicemen and women may do themselves a favor by checking with the Veterans Administration before making a trip or establishing a residence abroad, the VA has advised.

The reason, the agency explained, is that certain VA benefits cannot be provided in foreign countries and veterans who are aware of these will be able to plan more wisely.

For example, a veteran with a service-connected disability should obtain a statement to that effect from the VA office which maintains his medical records.

This statement will entitle the veteran to emergency hospitalization, paid for by VA, when it and a proper application for medical benefits is presented to the United States embassy or consular office in the foreign country. The application should be made within 72 hours of need, VA explained.

Only at Veterans Memorial Hospital in Manila is VA-paid care available overseas for veterans with non-service-connected disabilities.

As is the case in the U.S., overseas veterans will be admitted to the hospital only on a space available basis and only if they are unable to afford other hospitalization, VA said.

Only veterans who are retired from military service are eligible for medical benefits from military hospitals and clinics overseas, VA said.

Certain VA education benefits are available overseas to eligible veterans, their spouses and children. The type and availability of these benefits should be ascertained before traveling or moving abroad.

While compensation and pension checks will be mailed to most overseas locations, veterans cannot obtain GI home loans for overseas residences, VA said.

Full information may be obtained at the nearest Veterans Administration office or by checking with a representative of one of the national veterans service organizations.

Would block tax rise—Howlett

Michael J. Howlett, Democratic candidate for governor, detailed his plan to avoid increased state taxes in a series of press conferences during a weekend fly-around to major Illinois cities.

Under his plan, he said, the state will meet all its obligations, including education. He reiterated he would veto tax increases if any were passed by the General Assembly.

"I am committed to blocking increased taxes," said Howlett. "I have put my political future on the line with this pledge."

Accompanying Howlett on the fly-around were Lt. Gov. Neil F. Hartigan, Cecil Partee, president of the Senate; William A. Redmond, speaker of the House; Thomas C. Hynes, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee; and Thaddeus S. Lechowicz and Kenneth Boyle, chairmen of divisions of the House Appropriations Committee.

Howlett's press conferences began in Chicago and went on to Rockford, Rock Island, Peoria, Springfield and Carbondale.

He distributed copies of his five-page plan with accompanying graphs. Essentially, his plan stands on five commitments:

1. He is committed to complete the present fiscal year with a state expenditure increase only slightly more than half the actual increases of each of the last two years.

"This objective fits budget action so far by the General Assembly and Gov. Walker, and the likely impact of veto overrides and supplemental appropriations," he said.

Howlett projects increased spending of $332 million for fiscal 1977 as compared to $603 million for fiscal 1976 and $613 million for fiscal 1975.

2. He is committed to economic development to create jobs for Illinois' 360,000 unemployed.

"Rising employment and reasonable federal economic policy would make good the governor's 1977 forecast and average economic performance for 1978 and 1979," Howlett said.

"Even in the worst of times, Illinois' economy generates a minimum of $400 million a year of increased state revenues with our present tax structure.

"In average years, the increase equals $500 million."

3. He is committed to "evaluate every state program to eliminate waste and duplication." A consultant for the Senate Committee on Fiscal Accountability has reported state government wastes $200 million to $500 million a year.

He is committed to working with the Illinois Congressional delegation and governors of other northern states to increase Illinois' share of federal funds.

"At present, Illinois gets back only 72 cents for each dollar in taxes we send to Washington," he said.

5. Until the state is meeting all its obligations, Howlett is committed to spend increases from existing sources to meet them. But he expects increased revenues during fiscal 1978 and 1979 to total $1.5 billion.

"We will have funds to meet our outstanding obligations, including education," said Howlett.

Even without measuring the impact of his policies for developing the economy, eliminating waste, increasing federal aid and curtailing unnecessary expenses, Howlett believes the state can complete the present fiscal year with $172 million in the General Revenue Fund.

"This would still be below the prudent $200 million level, but $46 million better than the state started with this year," he said. His projections maintain the $200 million ending balance for fiscal 1978 and 1979.

"My opponent keeps saying he won't make any promises about taxes," said Howlett. "I am committed to stop increased taxes, and I will."

Rifle ammo is recalled

The Winchester Group of Olin Corp. is recalling one day's production of .22-caliber long rifle ammunition following discovery that excessive pressure in some cartridges makes them potentially hazardous to shoot.

The recall is for ammunition sold under the brand name Wildcat and identified with code number LP62PY.

The number is stamped on the inside tuck flap of each 50-round box and on the upper right corner of the end panel of 5,000-round cases. The ammunition being recalled was produced in late June.

Anyone with such ammunition should return it to a dealer for replacement, the company said.

Use of the affected cartridges could cause personal injury, although no injuries have been reported and only a small fraction of one per cent of two million rounds produced under the LP62PY identification is suspected of being defective, the company said.

The problem was discovered when a report of gun damage was investigated.

$500 TELEVISION TAKEN

A 19-inch color television, valued at $500, was stolen from the home of Phyllis Gilson, 3407 Bryan Ave., between 4:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. Monday.

Moose to offer candy Saturday

Moose Lodge 272 of Granite City will conduct its annual candy sale to benefit the Kidney Foundation throughout the local area Saturday.

Walter Anders, Moose project chairman, said club members will offer the public a Toosie Roll bank for a $1 donation. All proceeds from the project will be contributed to the Kidney Foundation, he said.

Moose Lodge members will be offering the candy for sale in the Downtown Granite City area and at suburban shopping centers, Anders said.

Kennedy dinner-dance Oct. 17

The annual John F. Kennedy dinner-dance, sponsored by the Madison County Democratic Central Committee, will be held Oct. 17 this year in the Meridian Hall at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The event will be held on Sunday beginning at 4:30 p.m. with cocktails and dinner to be served at 6 p.m. Introduction of guests together with speakers will begin at approximately 7 p.m. with dancing to follow at 8 p.m.

Congressman Melvin Price and other legislators will be in attendance with gubernatorial Candidate Michael Howlett scheduled as the principal speaker.

Others invited and expected to be in attendance are Alan Dixon, candidate for secretary of state; Neil Hartigan, candidate for and presently Lt.

Governor; Michael Bakalis, candidate for comptroller, and Cecil Partee, candidate for attorney general. Governor Walker has also been invited and it is hoped that he will be able to present, according to Nelson Hagnauer, county committee chairman.

This has been an annual affair of the Madison County Democratic Committee for a number of years and has received statewide attention, as well as national attention on several occasions.

Presidential Candidate Jimmy Carter will be in Illinois during this period and there is some speculation that an effort will be made to insure his presence at this affair, Hagnauer said. Tickets are $25 each and may be purchased by contacting the Madison County Democratic secretary, Sam W. Wolf at 1506 Johnson Road.

Look at it this way.

Isn't a Long Distance phone call to your family or friends worth the price of an ice cream cone?

Direct Dial rates do not apply to coin, hotel-guest, hospital patient, credit card, collect or person-to-person calls, or to calls charged to another number, because an Operator must assist on such calls. They do apply on station-to-station calls placed with an Operator from a residence or a business phone where Direct Dial facilities are not available. ## Madison team tours historic area

"We want to make our extracurricular activity program something more than just playing a game," Madison High School Principal Richard Corbin told the Press-Record this week.

Judging by the diverse activity schedule being followed by the football team this fall, the wish is rapidly being translated into reality.

An example is the Trojan grid team's journey to Vaile Catholic High School, St. Genevieve, Mo., for a 7:30 night game.

Instead of a later starting time for the trip, the Madison athletes departed from here at mid-day and at 2 p.m. began a guided tour of the historically famous town of St. Genevieve.

The students heard about the settlement's influential role in the early development of the Mississippi Valley area. They learned that at one time St. Genevieve and St. Louis had approximately equal populations—950.

When a railroad was built into St. Louis and not St. Genevieve, the inevitable happened, the team was told; St. Louis became a center of industrial development and a large metropolitan city, while the latter settled for permanent "small town" status coupled with a degree of historical acclaim.

Following the afternoon tour, the Trojan teammates shared a meal at the noted "Old Brick House" restaurant.

The athletes then visited the riverfront, where they saw cars being ferried across from Illinois. Barges, including the John F. Kennedy, were observed at work, and the students witnessed dredging operations.

The visit to the riverfront was concluded by throwing stones at floating objects and skipping flat rocks on the river. Then, it was back to the field house to dress for the game.

Corbin comments that "a group such as an athletic team is somewhat like a family. Its members have a common bond, purpose and relationship.

"Our trip to St. Genevieve exemplified how school teams, clubs and organizations can offer opportunities to develop as appreciative, learned and responsible citizens.

"It was an inspiring experience for all of us."

Long Lake Fire District clears tax warrant debt

Using new taxes received recently, the Long Lake Fire Protection District trustees held a 10-minute meeting Tuesday evening at which it cleared up all its debts from previous fiscal years.

The board voted to pay off the final tax anticipation warrant sold when the district received no tax revenues in the 1974-75 fiscal year because its attorney failed to file a tax levy with the Madison County clerk's office.

The final $18,000 tax anticipation warrant plus $922 interest were paid among the bills presented during Tuesday's meeting.

The board also agreed to pay

$5,500 to the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department as the final payment on the 1975-76 fiscal year contract. The fire protection agency is the taxing district which supports the Long Lake Fire Department through annual contracts.

Other bills paid included $3,785 as the annual premium to the Washington National Life Insurance Co. and $80 to the Press-Record for legal publications.

Board President Harold Davis and Trustee Irene Karlechk were the only two members of the three-member board present for the meeting.

North Homecoming Court

During homecoming classes on Thursday, Oct. 14, students will vote by secret ballot for the Homecoming queen and king. Members of the North Homecoming Court are: Carmichael, Cally Choate, Karen Davis, Pattie Fyalka, Tammy Legate, Fran Litzelman, Mary Ann Simmers, Mary Vesel and Cindy White. Candidates for king are: Randy Belling, Fred Clay, Bruce Jateff, Kevin Marcus, Larry Miller, Jim Moske, Joe O'Gara, George Pike and Jeff Sherman.

Results of the voting will not be announced until the night of the coronation which will follow the annual homecoming play on Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 20 and 21.

Area deaths, births show slight rise

A total of 92 births and 45 deaths occurred in the Quad-City area during September, according to a vital statistics report by Robert Stevens, city clerk of Granite City.

The 92 births last month represented an increase of three over the 89 births reported in September last year, while the 45 deaths increased nine over 36 deaths in the same month a year ago.

There were three fetal deaths during the month, an increase of two over one fetal death in September 1975.

September statistics brought to 685 the total number of Quad-City area births this year, down from 719 during the same nine-month period in 1975.

The 45 September deaths brought the total to 362 for the nine months of the year thus far, up from 309 during the same period a year ago. The three fetal deaths in September brought the total for the year to six, down from nine in the same period a year ago.

Special skating session Monday

'Good turn' paper drive

The entire proceeds of a Boy Scout Troop 5 paper drive to be held Saturday will be donated to the troop's sponsor, the Nameoki Methodist Church.

Scoutmaster Pat Busch announced at a troop meeting the Scouts voted unanimously to give the money to the church to show their appreciation for the seven years the church has been sponsoring the troop.

The paper drive and the plans by the Scouts were announced Thursday as the official charter to operate a Boy Scout Troop was presented to Charles Taylor, institutional representative.

For anyone wishing to help in the paper drive, containers will be at the Nameoki Village Shopping center just north of the former Grant's store, facing K-Mart.

Persons wishing to have paper picked up by the Scouts may telephone 931-5282 or 452-7352.

Meet on mandatory education of nurses

All registered nurses and licensed practical nurses are being invited to attend an open forum on legislation to be introduced in 1977 that would require them to show proof of continuing education to renew their licenses.

About 88,000 RNs and 27,000 LPNs in Illinois will be affected by such a law. On the theory that nurses are individually responsible for safe practice, the Illinois Nurses' Association House of Delegates voted in 1975 to introduce a continuing education bill.

"Evidence of continuing education programs would be one means of assuring the public that nurses are up-to-date on issues in the rapidly expanding health-care field," a spokesman said.

Licenses would be renewed every two years. Similar bills for Illinois optometrists and physicians were signed into law last year.

Sponsored by INA District 10 and Division 15 of the Licensed Practical Nurses' Association of Illinois, forums will be held on Wednesday, Oct. 20, from 1 to 5 p.m. at Belleville Area College in the Theater, 2000 Carlyle Road, Belleville, and on Thursday, Oct. 21, from 6 to 10 p.m. at Kaskaskia Junior College in the cafeteria and auditorium, Shattuck Road, Centralia.

The presentation on mandatory continuing education in the first two hours is open to all RNs and LPNs. It will be followed by a session for INA members to discuss new bylaw proposals.

Needlepoint class to start Monday

Troubled music festival merits another chance; answers surely can be found on finances and audience conduct

The Mississippi River Festival again is at a crossroads. Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, the current sponsor, incurred a $41,523 debt in 1976 and there is a further financial imbalance of $137,094 to be considered by the MRF board of directors. If the university wants to abandon the festival, it can cite a number of plausible reasons why it "had no other choice"; if this happens, the yearly outdoor concert series probably will die.

We are of the opinion that "where there's a will, there's a way." An equally persuasive list should be assembled to show why the festival should be perpetuated.

We don't know precisely what combination of ingredients would produce a financial success, but we believe there is such a recipe. Certainly, the "chemistry" was right in 1975 when SIUE first took over from the St. Louis Symphony Society.

Participation, funds and critical acclaim all set records.

Prospects looked even brighter this year, but concern over possible violence prompted some to stay away during part of the summer, and a "Yes" concert that was expected to draw 25,000 was shifted to another location.

Mississippi River Festival was more or less two-dimensional—St. Louis Symphony concerts that did not draw well and folk-rock-popular music that usually attracted big crowds (except in stormy weather). The former provided the "class" and the latter the money to pay the bills (although guarantees to "pop" artists could be mighty costly when the attraction was past its prime or the clouds opened to drench the non-tent-protected portion of the campus hillside).

As the years passed, the River Festival became multi-dimensional, and enthusiasts for various kinds of music found that all parts of the spectrum had a lot to offer.

Particularly when there were guest conductors, symphonic offerings began to draw more than respectable attendance.

English rock groups continued to have the biggest appeal, but there was substantial public interest in many other entertainers and groups.

Not only do arts councils and other benefactors become a bigger part of the income budget, the MRF began fulfilling an increasing number of cultural and educational functions.

People of all walks of life could and did begin to enjoy the diverse offerings. And the River Festival provided helpful employment for many university students during a time when part-time job opportunities were no longer plentiful elsewhere.

The executive committee of the MRF board of directors was asked this week to make recommendations within 40 days on the future of the festival and on the retirement of the deficit. If it adopts a "do" approach, it would appear that there are adequate answers for all the questions and points that need to be raised.

Bid figures show soundness of sewer project's planning

Although Area One sanitary sewer installation remains uncertain due to litigation—for which a hearing is to be held Oct. 12—the many thousands of people who want the project to proceed are mightily encouraged by the construction bids opened Sept. 30.

The fact that various combinations of low bids approximate the advance estimate of $15,964,306 reflects the soundness of the planning and engineering.

The massive and complex undertaking has been developed into understandable, achievable and affordable construction tasks that can be implemented promptly once legal hurdles are cleared and bonds are issued.

The soundness and essential nature of the sewer project—and the misguided assumptions behind the effort to delay or block it—are moving into sharper focus each day.

'Reformer' has active law partners

To the Editor: The "reforms" proposed for the State Ethics Act by the Republican candidate, for governor do not offer any real protection for the citizens of Illinois from public utilities, large corporations and special interest law firms.

Until lawyer candidates and their law firms are prohibited from practicing before the government, the question of lawyer's candidacy and term of office, no meaningful reform will be effected.

As a recent law school graduate, I spent many months seeking a job and I can tell you law firms hire lawyers only to sue the firm's clients.

If, as reported, James Thompson is paid $50,000 a year by one of the largest law firms in the state while he is a candidate for governor, then Mr. Thompson's very substantial salary is being paid by the law firm's corporate and special interest clients—clients Mr. Thompson will be expected to regulate if he is elected.

The Republican candidate for governor and his law firm should call the salary paid Mr. Thompson what that salary actually is—a political contribution.

I consider it hypocritical for a "reform" candidate to participate in an arrangement whereby the candidate draws "salary" while he devotes his time to public office.

The effect of that "salary" plan is to improperly allow corporations and special interest law firms to deduct as "legal" fees of "salary" what are actually political contributions.

It looks like the same "old politics" to me.

ROGER A. SERPE 4817 N. Newland Chicago

not be able to voice anything you came to say?

It seems to me, and quite a few other people who won't voice their opinion, that some members run for the board and if they know they are going to be leaving the majority of the board can choose who they please to replace them. Usually it's a "yes" person who will help keep the majority of the school board members always in control.

VENICE SCHOOL PARENT

Feels public cut off by Venice board

To the Editor: On or about Sept. 27 a letter was sent to the Venice School Board by my mother about the procedures of the board as a whole.

One of the things mentioned in the letter was the fact that one of the school board members does not send the member's son to school here; he has not been enrolled, according to school records.

This member does not live in Venice, according to friends and neighbors. The question of members being on the school board who do not reside, but have a mailing address, has come up quite often this year.

Some of these questions were asked in the letter and the school board did not have the decency to even read the letter.

The letter my mother sent was not read—nor does anyone know what happened to it. Things such as this happen—when there is a reason for it. First-class mail does not go astray when addressed to the president of the Venice School Board, unless it is supposed to.

One of the board members refused to give the letter to the board, saying that I should mail it, which would be more proper. This was what was done, and what good it did I don't know.

Nobody acknowledges there was ever a letter. Now the letter is lost. Isn't that convenient? If something isn't done to straighten out the board members, the whole school will be lost.

I think parents having children in our school system should have something to say about its running. If you attend a school board meeting, you are like one of the walls. You are supposed to sit there and have nothing to say in connection with the school. This was always my understanding of attending board meetings.

Why bother if you are only going to sit there and listen and not be able to voice anything you came to say?

There are far more pressing issues to be corrected by our government than the abortion issue. According to the polls, it is about fourth on the list.

How about inflation, unemployment, foreign aid? Charity should begin at home. How about the huge defense budget, or tax overhauls?

WILLIAM RESIDENT

What Are The Odds?

The odds for any particular woman to give birth to twins at any particular time are 1 in 87.

The odds against a bridge player being dealt a hand containing six cards of one suit, four of another, two of a third and one of a fourth are about 20 to 1.

Scott ended individuals' personal taxes, fought biggest swindle in U.S. history

(Remarks by William J. Scott, Illinois attorney general, to the Chicago Bar Association in his campaign for re-election.)

The Illinois attorney general's office is one of the largest law offices in the state, operating in all 102 counties and performing a vital role in the state's entire system of justice.

My number one priority has been, and still is, to see that this office is conducted in a professional, fair and efficient manner.

You asked me for a report on my stewardship, with emphasis on the recent years. I am proud of several of this term's major efforts—in such areas as environmental protection, consumer fraud and civil antitrust enforcement, have continued initiatives developed in my first term—there are significant distinctive aspects and highlights of the second term that I would like to mention.

In addition to substantial administrative duties, I have been fortunate to have participated personally in the planning and actual litigation of some of the most important cases in recent years. I am especially proud of three.

Early in 1973, I argued before the U.S. Supreme Court the case that resulted in removal of the Illinois personal property tax from individuals, winning a 5-4 decision.

I personally supervised both the civil and criminal prosecutions of former Equity Funding executives, and personally argued in the federal district court in Los Angeles, winning the decision that protected Illinois taxpayers from liability.

I took an active role in the Cook County Circuit Court trial of our successful water pollution suit against Inland Steel Co. of Indiana, personally making the opening and closing arguments.

The Equity Funding case, the biggest swindle in American history, points up the most significant new law enforcement effort undertaken by my office during this second term.

For some time, I have been deeply disturbed by the rapid expansion of financial or white-collar crime.

Running rampant in embezzlements, employee thefts and consumer frauds to price-fixing, phony securities schemes, fraudulent charitable solicitations and credit card frauds, white-collar crime was estimated by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce to total more than $40 billion a year, a staggering figure.

The increasing complexity and sophistication of many of these crimes, again illustrated by the creation of false computer records in Equity Funding, meant that our local law enforcement agencies, which must concentrate their money and manpower on street crimes, were often not match for a scheming swindler with some financial know-how.

In other words, many white-collar criminals were escaping prosecution, carrying off the hard-earned dollars of Illinois citizens, sometimes their life savings.

With the help of a federal grant I obtained from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, I formed a Financial Crimes Bureau in our Criminal Justice Division.

The bureau is a small but highly capable unit of specialized investigators, accountants and lawyers who work closely with the state's attorneys to pursue and prosecute white-collar criminals. I am pleased to report that we have obtained gratifying results.

In Equity Funding, we extradited all the company's major officers and obtained indictments against them. These were the first indictments ever handed up for criminal violations of the Illinois Insurance Code.

Several of the defendants already have been convicted by the state's jury system, and others are serving lengthy sentences, which they had managed to avoid in their prior federal prosecutions.

Other cases illustrate the endless variety of white-collar crime. We convicted several employees of the Chicago state university and certain suppliers and contractors with whom they had conspired to create contracts for materials and services which the university never received.

We also won convictions of the former chairman and agent of Lake Forest College and two co-conspirators for theft of federal surplus property made available to the college at a low cost under the Federal Surplus Property Act.

In addition, we convicted four men for selling phony distributorships for a Rockford-based company, convicted five Kane County men of a pizza company stock fraud that took nearly $35,000 from 14 Kane County residents; and convicted a truckstop operator of evading more than $425,000 in motor fuel taxes.

We have obtained indictments of two Oak Brook men for diverting insurance premiums received from more than 7,000 employees of 300 small businesses and trade associations; indicted a man charged with bilking three elderly, disabled persons out of their tax refunds.

Many financial crimes, of course, do involve activity in connection with the Illinois state lottery; indicted defendants charged with selling phony Illinois lottery tickets to franchises to more than 200 Illinois residents for as much as $10,000.

Indicted a foundation operator for conspiracy, forgery and theft of more than $100,000 from Lincoln Open University, a now-defunct college formerly located in Lombard; indicted five former officers and directors of a finance company for defrauding nearly 200 Illinois residents of more than $100,000 in cash and dollars; and indicted a former Illinois Department of Revenue collection officer for bribery and official misconduct.

Closely allied with this new white-collar prosecution action, our Antitrust Division commenced the first criminal prosecutions in history under the Illinois antitrust law.

The state provides penalties of one to three years' imprisonment and a fine of up to $50,000 for each violation.

The attorney general is authorized to present evidence to a grand jury and prosecute violations of the law. Significant criminal authority possessed by this office.

Again, I personally argued the Illinois Supreme Court case that upheld this grand jury authority for antitrust cases.

The first convictions were won in mid-1975 against Macon County beer distributors. A massive criminal case against Springfield-area mechanical contracting firms, executives, union officers and trade associations ended last year with 24 indictments and fines totaling $135,000, the largest amount ever recovered in a single case under the state's Antitrust Act.

In treble damage actions under the Clayton Act, we won $24.4 million for the retail coal dealers, $335,000 from cast iron pipe manufacturers, $300,000 from gypsum board manufacturers and an additional settlement of $475,000 on top of the more than $5 million previously obtained from the manufacturers of the "wonder drug" Vetracycline.

In another drug case, this one involving ampicillin, a federal district court handed down an important decision recognizing the authority of the Illinois attorney general to file suit on behalf of individual consumers.

Treble damage suits are pending against plumbing contractors, meat processors, major sugar companies, milk producers, the Big Three auto producers (auto fleet discount case) and makers of master lock and key systems.

In addition to the new antitrust legislation, we have the authority to act against white-collar crime was further strengthened by the new Franchise Disclosure Act enacted with our active support.

The law is designed to protect prospective franchisees against fraudulent sales of franchises and against sales of franchises with insufficient information disclosed.

The act gives the secretary of state's securities division and the attorney general concurrent jurisdiction and broad investigative powers. We already have brought several suits under this new law.

While citing this new legislation, it is appropriate to note that there is a need for further measures. Last year I urged the legislature to increase the penalties for financial crimes and I will support such legislation in next year's session.

Stanley Goldblum, the former chairman of Equity Funding and mastermind of that enormous crime, received the maximum sentence under the Insurance Code last year.

Financial crimes should be made a Class Three felony, with a sentence of one to ten years, and financial crimes involving $50,000 or more should be made a Class Two felony, with a sentence of one to twenty years.

The present $10,000 limit on fines for financial crimes should be removed, so judges can levy fines appropriately related to the gravity of the violations.

In addition, next year I will renew my proposal for legislation authorizing the attorney general to directly prosecute state violations of financial crimes, especially those crossing county lines.

Many financial crimes, of course, do involve activity in more than one county, and thus require the services of one state's attorney to prosecute.

This measure, so long needed in Illinois, will enable us to authorize an even broader comprehensive attack on financial crime.

Another vital aspect of my second term has been environmental protection.

Early in my first term, I had won court rulings establishing my common law power to sue polluters, and then I actively supported new legislation authorizing an even broader attack on environmental problems.

My first environmental goal was to end dumping in Lake Michigan by industry and government, in order to reverse the damage to the lake and threatened loss of that treasured body of water.

As a result of our office using our system of justice to obtain court-ordered programs to treat and recycle polluted waste water, the state of Michigan, all the Illinois beaches were open this summer for the first time in years, and the water quality of the lake is at long last improving.

The final legal step came in January of this year when Inland Steel, found by Judge Nathan Cohen to have polluted the lake, agreed to install a complete recycling and filtration system at the company's huge East Chicago, Ind., mill, the largest steel mill in the United States.

This was the first successful action in the nation forcing an industrial polluter in another jurisdiction to clean up pollution affecting the well-being of citizens in the plaintiff's jurisdiction.

Previously, U.S. Steel entered into a court-enforced agreement to recycle the discharge from its gigantic South Works in Chicago, as well as at its Waukegan plant. Interlake and Republic Steel agreed to similar court settlements with our office.

All these cases were brought by us in cooperation with the Metropolitan Sanitary District. We also obtained agreements from Kenosha and Racine, Wis., to construct highly-advanced waste treatment facilities for municipal waste being discharged into Lake Michigan.

These agreements came after we had cracked down on fraudulent solicitations and on professional fund-raisers who keep as much as 85 to 90 percent of the funds they raise.

We uncovered one case in which the charity actually ended up owing the fundraiser $125,000.

Our proposed legislation requiring a minimum of 50 percent on monies solicited from the public to be utilized for charitable purposes.

We have greatly expanded the service provided by our Consumer Fraud and Protection Division, and in the past three years it has saved or recovered more than $7 million for Illinois consumers.

In 1975 alone, our consumer fraud officers in the Chicago area handled more than 17,000 complaints, and another 6,800 were received downstate.

The state's revised Consumer Fraud Act, drafted by our office, provides strong protection for consumers, including a three-day cooling-off period in which a customer can rescind a doorstep transaction over $25.

Under the act, we have sued successfully to stop fraudulent pyramid sales schemes, long-term family photo contracts, television repairs, a correspondence course in cattle buying, sale of so-called Renoir originals, employment agency misrepresentations, "bait-and-switch" advertising, furnace and chimney repairs, and a scheme to teach and equip individuals to produce Bicentennial plaques bearing a federally-registered logo for which no use authorization had been obtained.

Our other anti-pollution cases literally hundreds of them before the Pollution Control Board and the courts, have centered on cleaning up other bodies of water, to improve air quality in the Chicago metropolitan area and other industrial regions of the state, and to the abatement of land pollution and noise pollution.

For example, we are currently involved in a lawsuit with the Federal Aviation Administration, Civil Aeronautics Board and the City of Chicago in an effort to control the awesome problems of noise pollution caused by O'Hare Airport.

Our new prosecution assistance program, which provided broad assistance to state's attorneys in murder, rape, narcotics and other criminal cases. In 200 cases to date, we have a success conviction rate of over 90 percent.

Our Charitable Trusts and Solicitations Division was commended by the National Association of Attorneys General.

The commendation recognized our successful initiative in seeking out fraudulent and low-performance charitable activities, and our strict enforcement of state statutes requiring registration, annual reports and use of uniform accounting procedures.

For example, when Elgin National Watch Co. merged into a conglomerate, we saved the $5 million in the company's pension fund for the more than 1,000 Elgin pensioners.

The commendation recognized our successful initiative in seeking out fraudulent and low-performance charitable activities, and our strict enforcement of state statutes requiring registration, annual reports and use of uniform accounting procedures.

For example, when Elgin National Watch Co. merged into a conglomerate, we saved the $5 million in the company's pension fund for the more than 1,000 Elgin pensioners.

We have cracked down on fraudulent solicitations and on professional fund-raisers who keep as much as 85 to 90 percent of the funds they raise.

We uncovered one case in which the charity actually ended up owing the fundraiser $125,000.

Our proposed legislation requiring a minimum of 50 percent on monies solicited from the public to be utilized for charitable purposes.

We have greatly expanded the service provided by our Consumer Fraud and Protection Division, and in the past three years it has saved or recovered more than $7 million for Illinois consumers.

In 1975 alone, our consumer fraud officers in the Chicago area handled more than 17,000 complaints, and another 6,800 were received downstate.

The state's revised Consumer Fraud Act, drafted by our office, provides strong protection for consumers, including a three-day cooling-off period in which a customer can rescind a doorstep transaction over $25.

Under the act, we have sued successfully to stop fraudulent pyramid sales schemes, long-term family photo contracts, television repairs, a correspondence course in cattle buying, sale of so-called Renoir originals, employment agency misrepresentations, "bait-and-switch" advertising, furnace and chimney repairs, and a scheme to teach and equip individuals to produce Bicentennial plaques bearing a federally-registered logo for which no use authorization had been obtained.

Our other anti-pollution cases literally hundreds of them before the Pollution Control Board and the courts, have centered on cleaning up other bodies of water, to improve air quality in the Chicago metropolitan area and other industrial regions of the state, and to the abatement of land pollution and noise pollution.

For example, we are currently involved in a lawsuit with the Federal Aviation Administration, Civil Aeronautics Board and the City of Chicago in an effort to control the awesome problems of noise pollution caused by O'Hare Airport.

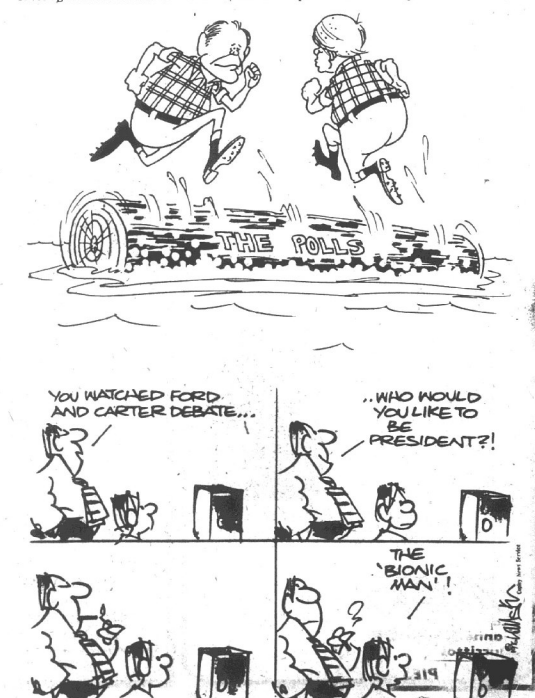

Our new prosecution assistance program, which provided broad assistance to state's attorneys in murder, rape, narcotics and other criminal cases. In 200 cases to date, we have a success conviction rate of over 90 percent.

Our Charitable Trusts and Solicitations Division was commended by the National Association of Attorneys General.

The commendation recognized our successful initiative in seeking out fraudulent and low-performance charitable activities, and our strict enforcement of state statutes requiring registration, annual reports and use of uniform accounting procedures.

For example, when Elgin National Watch Co. merged into a conglomerate, we saved the $5 million in the company's pension fund for the more than 1,000 Elgin pensioners.

MUSICIANS FOR "ANYTHING GOES." the Granite City High School North Fall Festival Homecoming play are Mrs. Patricia Michaeloff at the piano and, standing from left, Don Walton, Dwayne Jorgensen, Rich Bunch and Stewart Kinney. Featuring the songs of Cole Porter, the play will be presented at 8 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 20 and 21, in the South auditorium. Purchase of tickets in advance is being advised by North school officials as last year's play was a sellout and no tickets were left for sale at the door.

'Anything Goes' is North festival homecoming play

The Granite City High School Fall Festival Homecoming play "Anything Goes" will be presented by the North Advanced Speech students at 8 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 20 and 21, in the GCHS South Auditorium.

Admission is $2 for adults and $1.50 for students, or by activity ticket. Tickets may be purchased from any advanced speech student, any student council member at North, or during the lunch periods at North.

Legislation on dam promised by next May

The newly-adopted Water Resources Development Act of 1976 authorizes funds for flood control, hydroelectric power and other water resources programs.

As passed, the bill provides $743 million for 63 new projects and 32 ongoing works.

Locks and Dam 26 on the Mississippi River at Alton was deleted from the bill on the floor of the Senate.

Supporters of replacement of Locks and Dam 26 said the old facility, constructed in the 1890s, is rapidly deteriorating. Even if construction began next year, it could not have been completed before 1985, they said. Opponents described the problems as not serious.

When the lock had to be closed for emergency repairs, the ensuing back-up stalled over 800 barges carrying 800,000 tons of grain, coal, petroleum, chemicals, fertilizers and building materials.

More than 55 million tons of cargo pass here each year.

About 30 per cent of all the grain exported from the United States last year was transported by barge through locks in this area, estimates showed.

The chairman and ranking minority member of the Senate Water Resources Subcommittee made assurances during debate on the Senate floor that their committee will report legislation on the Alton dam project by May 15 of next year.

LOCKING SYSTEM

A PERFECT PARTNER WITH OUR SECURITY/STORM DOORS

THE GRISCO LOCKING SYSTEM IS THE ONLY TRUE SECURITY DOOR ON THE MARKET. OUR SYSTEM EVOLVES AROUND A DOUBLE DEAD BOLT LOCK. AS THE KEY IS TURNED, THE LOCK IS ENGAGED (FIG. A.) SIMULTANEOUSLY, A DEAD BOLT IS ENGAGED ON THE HINGE SIDE (FIG. B.) THIS MAKES IT IMPOSSIBLE TO FORCE ENTRY EVEN IF THE HINGE PIN OR HINGE SCREW IS REMOVED.
